

Ex-Appleton Policeman Found Slain

Appears to be Victim of Robbery At Winnebago County Lodge

A former Appleton police de- tective is dead of gunshot wounds and about $260 is miss- ing from the safe of the Embassy Motor Lodge on Win- nebag County Trunk BB where he worked.

Winnebago County detectives this morning had pieced little more together in the apparent holdup of the motel and murder of Frank Frye, 63, 519 Douglas St., night clerk at the motel.

Detective Lt. Wilbur Fuller said today Frye died of shotgun wounds at "extremely close range." He refused to comment on whether his department had suspects in the murder, but said no one had been taken into custody.

Fuller asked "anyone having any information related to the killing, no matter how irrelevant it may seem" to contact Winnebago County detectives immediately.

Frye's bleeding body was found lying in the snow along the south edge of County Trunk MM about a mile and half south of Zittau shortly after 6 a.m. Sunday by a passing motorist, John A. Friedrich, route 1, Fremont.

He told Winnebago County sheriff's detectives that he examined the body, thinking it might have been a dead deer. He said the body appeared to have been placed along the road, resting upon its back with hands folded.

Noticed About 5:50 a.m. Robert Nepp, Oconto Falls, manager of the motel, said Frye checked his last guest in about 3 a.m. Sunday. He said he noticed Frye and the money were missing at 5:50 a.m. and reported it to the sheriff's department.

Nepp said there were no signs of violence at the motel. He said it appeared that Frye had walked from the building. More than $300 had been kept in the motel, according to Nepp, but the thief took only part of the money. Frye left the motel without his coat.

County Coroner Art C. Miller said it appeared Frye may have been shot in the vehicle in which he traveled to the point near Zittau where his body was found.

Evidence at Laboratory County detectives said this morning that they were preparing samples of evidence to be sent to the State Crime Laboratory in Madison today. Snow samples taken from the scene where the body was found were the only identified form of evidence.

All identification had been removed when Frye's body was found. Only a pack of cigarettes was found in his pockets. The body was taken to Mercy Medical Center in Oshkosh, where an autopsy performed and Appleton Police made identification.

Miller said death resulted from massive rupturing of the abdominal aorta, caused by the shotgun blast.

First Murder Frye was married and the father of two married daughters living in Appleton. He joined the Appleton Police Department in 1937 and retired with the rank of detective sergeant in 1959. He had been employed at the Embassy for about a year.

Miller said Frye's death was Winnebago County's first murder in more than six years. In June, 1963, a service station attendant was stabbed to death at the intersection of U.S. 41 and U.S. 45 west of Oshkosh.

Frye was born in Pembine but lived 10 years in South Dakota before coming to Appleton with his parents in 1922.

He joined the police force in June, 1937, climaxing what he termed an eight-year ambition. In February, 1947 he was promoted to detective and in July, 1958, to detective sergeant.

Association Member Frye had been a member of the Policeman's Protective Association. He is survived by the widow, two daughters, one brother, two sisters and 10 grandchildren.

Funeral services will begin at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at the First United Methodist Church, with burial in Highland Memorial Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Wichmann Funeral Home from 3 until 9 p.m. Tuesday. A memorial fund has been established.

Flight to Hanoi Billionaire Attempting to Get Christmas Gifts to POWs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Texas billionaire left by chartered jet today on the second leg of a trip he hopes will end with the delivery of 180,000 pounds of Christmas presents to 1,400 Americans held by North Vietnam.

"Allowing private American citizens to bring Christmas directly to these men would be a major step toward improving relations between our people," H. Ross Perot said before the plane— with "Peace on Earth" painted on it — left Dallas Sunday.

Most of the cargo — bedding, clothes, canned food, medicine and personal packages from prisoners' families — was loaded aboard the Boeing 707 during a stop in Los Angeles before it took off for Honolulu.

A second plane, named "Goodwill Toward Men," waited in Dallas for word to proceed. Perot told newsmen he planned to arrive in Bangkok Tuesday and take another plane to Hanoi to try to persuade officials to allow the cargo planes to enter.

"That will give us most of the 24th to unload and bring Christmas to those guys on Christmas Day," Perot said.

"Of course, we could have Christmas in January," He said Hanoi had discouraged the trip in a cabled message, advising Perot to send packages through normal postal channels via Moscow.

Computer Company Perot, 39, who owns a Dallas computer company, organized a group called United We Stand, which is sponsoring the flight. He said he received large donations to help him pay the cost, about $600,000.

With Perot were about 30 newsmen and project workers including Red Cross doctors and a male nurse.

Perot said that since he announced his plan a week ago he hasn't sought advice from U.S. officials. If he did, he said, "the odds that this trip could succeed would go to zero."

The idea for the flight came as "a by-product of meeting a 4 1/2-year-old boy who has never met his father," Perot said. He said the trip was "in the best interest of the Vietnamese — simply a humanitarian act on the part of private individuals."

What if Hanoi doesn't permit the planes to land? "We are still confident that the Vietnamese fully understand the purpose of this mission and the desirable effects on their country they will allow it."

Scott Raps Hike In Health Funds

Congress Racing Toward Recess

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott has reinforced President Nixon's threat to veto a budget-boosting appropriation for education and health spending, despite compromise reductions drafted as Congress pressed toward Christmas recess.

The vacation timetable was vague after a stormy Saturday session, but congressional leaders hoped to clear the docket and quit well before Christmas Eve.

Today's major item: The massive tax reform bill, with its provision for a gradual increase from $600 to $750 in the personal income tax exemption.

Senate Republicans and Democrats already had staged a political custody dispute over the bill. The taxpaying voters, said Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., can thank Democrats for the reductions offered by the measure.

"They cannot thank the Republican leadership which is attempting to steal away from the lowly senior senator from Tennessee credit which he does not claim," Gore told the Senate over the weekend.

Another key to a recess up before Congress today was a $267 million catch-all appropriation bill. This became the vehicle for a crucial resolution to keep unfunded government agencies in funds until Congress takes its vacation and returns to act on their appropriations.

As matters stand, that is likely to be the situation for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the Department of Labor, and the Agency for International Development.

The resolution continues spending authority through Jan. 30.

But another factor, the so-called Philadelphia plan for obtaining more construction job opportunities for black workers, had made the future of the supplemental appropriations bill uncertain.

The Senate had attached a rider to the supplemental measure prohibiting the plan, which Speaker John W. McCormack who were in a Jeep that was hit by the plane as it slid across a road at the northwest end of the runway.

Two other soldiers in the Jeep escaped by leaping out. The vehicle was smashed over and turned into a charred wreck by the fire that followed.

The plane carried 63 passengers and a crew of seven, according to the steward. He said all of the crew members survived although the pilot was seriously injured, first by a mysterious explosion that occurred aboard the plane and possibly again in the crash.

He said the explosion apparently occurred in one of the left-side engines as the aircraft, bound from Saigon to Da Nang via Nha Trang, was flying near Cam Ranh Bay, about 28 miles south of Nha Trang.

Nixon Plans Speech Soon About Space WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will announce soon his decision on what the nation's space goals should be in the decade ahead and a space agency source said "we are prepared to be pleased."

It had been reported the President would address the nation Tuesday, but the White House said today the message is "imminent" but not that imminent. Julian Sheer, assistant administrator of the space agency, said the President's statement probably would come within a week.

Nixon has had, since mid-September, a report by a special task group headed by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew detailing three comprehensive alternatives. Two of these would put a man on Mars in the 1980s. The third leaves the Mars expedition open.

"There are still some answers to be worked out," a space agency spokesman said, "but we think it will be a very positive statement. We are very encouraged with the thought process at the White House and we are prepared to be pleased."

Skids Off Runway South Vietnamese Airliner Crashes

NHA TRANG, Vietnam (AP) — A South Vietnamese airliner skidded off the end of the Nha Trang Air Base runway today.

Scott said in his judgment, the smashing into a schoolhouse veto warning was not altered when House-Senate negotiators worked out the $19.9 billion compromise terms.

Actually, $1.1 billion of the reduction was in appropriations for homes and small school and the which were not to have been burned-out fuselage of the Air Vietnam DC6.

Police at the scene said of the 30 known dead, 21 had been on White House, it probably would "make a quick round trip," re-boarding the aircraft. Twelve of (turning to the Capitol with a the dead were believed to be schoolchildren.

No Americans A passenger list drawn up in Nha Trang indicated that there were no Americans aboard, although Air Vietnam officials in Saigon had said earlier there possibly were three. The list showed two or three Indians, the embattled measure until after the recess, and Scott said he names.

Some House Democrats, including two American soldiers Speaker John W. McCormack who were in a Jeep that was hit

Fate of Husbands Unknown

Wives of POWs Wait in Lonely Anguish

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — Silent anguish is the common bond shared by 27 women here. Their men are either prisoners of war, missing in action or dead. Many don't know which.

They have stayed on in this Navy town, where the Atlantic Ocean laps the shore and training jets zoom overhead, comforting and sustaining each other. They say their husbands are "the forgotten men" of the Vietnam war.

The 27 wives are only a fraction of the nearly 1,400 women in this country with a similar fate. Up until recently they have not spoken up, they've been afraid to.

Afraid of what enemy forces in Vietnam would do to their husbands—if they are alive. Why are they speaking out now?

"Time is running out," said attractive blonde, gray-eyed Mrs. James Mulligan, the mother of six sons.

"My husband (a navy commander of Lawrence, Mass.) has been a prisoner four and a half years now ... all those years of imprisonment. What harm can be done now?" she asked.

"We've been very quiet up until now," said Mrs. Jeremiah A. Denton, a Southerner of cannelike beauty. "We've gone through diplomatic channels. We've written letters. North Vietnam has refused to abide by the rules for prisoners set up by the Geneva convention. We hope now, by speaking out, when North Vietnam sees public opinion against them ... her voice trailed off.

Because this is the Christmas season, a time of reckoning when one feels more poignantly the loss of loved ones and the hope of miracles some hope against hope their husbands will be home by Christmas.

Only five of the 27 have ever received letters. Yet each writes her monthly letter all that is allowed by the North Vietnamese. Even those without hope. Not knowing if there is a husband there to receive the letter. Or, if he is there, whether he will be given it.

Each faithfully gleams what she can of the essence of her life with her children, trying to con- dence it into six lines. All that can be sent under Hanoi's rules.

Navy Capt. Denton, of Mobile, Ala., a tall, handsome pilot, was shot down over North Vietnam July 18, 1965.

Five days later, his wife found out he was a prisoner of war. Four and a half years he has been imprisoned. Yet, Jane Denton says, "I'm one of the lucky ones."

Mrs. Denton devotes her life to their seven children, ranging in age from 7 to 22.

The woodland scene outside and the secure, tastefully furnished home, filled with antiques and oil portraits of children, contrasted sharply with the picture of her husband— from whom she has received seven letters, which she saw on a television reel about American prisoners.

"He looked pale, haggard and drained," she said. That was in 1966. Three years have passed since.

Missing 22 Months Jane Nelson was a bride of only two days when her husband, Navy Lt. Richard Nelson left for Vietnam. He was shot down several months later and has been missing for almost 22 months.

No one saw parachutes and Jane believes her tall, curly-haired pilot-husband, 28, is dead.

"I can't believe they'd do this," she said, with an impatient shake of her head. Why won't they tell us if he is alive or not? I'm 25 now, and I won't be 25 much longer. When am I going to have children?"

The wives worry about what solitary confinement will do to their men, many of them believe their captive husbands have been kept in solitary confinement because some released

Formal SALT Talks to Start in April in Vienna

HELSINKI (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union agreed today to begin full-scale strategic arms limitation talks in Vienna April 16 and continue them in Helsinki later.

The United States had wanted Vienna as the site for the substantive negotiations, while the Soviet Union had been holding out for Helsinki. The compromise choice of both capitals ended a deadlock and enabled the two countries to move ahead with their efforts to stop the arms race in nuclear missiles.

A joint communique said the preliminary exchange of views which took place concerning the limitation of strategic arms was useful to both sides. As a result of that exchange, each side is able better to understand the views of the other side with respect to the problems under consideration.

"An understanding was reached on the general range of questions which will be the subject of further U.S.-Soviet exchanges."

Little Informality
The communique, initiated at a ceremonial closing of the preliminary phase of SALT by chief delegates Vladimir S. Semenov of the Soviet Union and Gerard C. Smith of the United States, contained no other information, except to list delegation members, express thanks to the Finnish government for its hospitality, and give the sites for later negotiations.

The talks here beginning Nov. 17, were held in secrecy. Their purpose was simply to prepare for the second and main phase of SALT, expected to last months, if not years.

"The main task is, of course, still ahead of us," Smith said at the final ceremony in Smolna Palace. "But we have made a first step in the right direction, and this itself is an achievement."

Much to Gain
"We profoundly hope that in the course of the forthcoming negotiations the United States and the Soviet Union will be able to agree upon limitations on their respective strategic arsenals both of our countries, and the world at large, have much to gain from such an agreement."

"It is time that the resources and talents of our two countries be devoted more to solving the States and the Soviet Union problems of modern society—agreed today to begin full-scale strategic arms limitation talks in Vienna April 16 and continue them in Helsinki later.

Semenov expressed similar sentiments. "The Soviet Union has been consistently and unwaveringly promoting the peaceful coexistence of states regardless of their social systems, along with peace and security and general and complete disarmament," the Soviet deputy foreign minister told the assembled delegations.

"It is these high principles that guided the U.S.S.R. delegation at the talks here."

"We have been aware that curbing the strategic arms race would serve the vital interests of the Soviet and American peoples and all peoples of our planet. On this basis we shall strive at the subsequent negotiations towards a mutually acceptable agreement on the problem under discussion."

Cuba's Sugar Harvest No Joking Matter
MIAMI (AP)—Fidel Castro strode into a cane field Sunday and warned that anyone who joked about the sugar crop harvest wouldn't get a chance to tell the joke twice.

Castro, who called off Christmas in Cuba because he wanted everyone in the fields working for a record sugar crop harvest, had five North Vietnamese, five Viet Cong soldiers, and a rash of Cuban officials in tow when he threatened to assassinate anyone who tried to sabotage the reaping. Radio Havana reported.

"From now on, we will assassinate without a single thought of any kind everybody who tries to sabotage the harvest," he said. "In this fight of the people to go ahead, to win the battle of underdevelopment, we are not going to move without compliance before the lackeys and the miserable ones who, in the service of imperialism try to sabotage us."

"In this there are no middle terms, no options of any kind. To him who jokes about this, I say that it is a joke that he won't have the chance to repeat."

Jean Ellison, whose husband, Navy Cmdr. John Ellison, Layton, Utah, was shot down three years ago, has this to live on for hope: her husband's name was once brought back by a released prisoner.

Does she write? Every month she's never had a reply. They were married 14 years when he was shot down — 17 now. They have four children. When Cmdr. W. E. Wilber, of Millerton, Pa., was shot down over North Vietnam 18 months ago, someone on the ground from the downed plane made contact with a wing man from their carrier.

"My Hope"
"That's my hope. That's what I've gone on," says Heanne Wilber. "I was home for my Dad's death, when I heard that he was missing in action. And that night, I was just looking out at the darkness and I just knew. Gener. her husband, was alive. I really felt it. I'd know if he were dead."

"I knew Gene's mind and strength before he left. This surely will sustain him. We know he has a Comforter... or we wouldn't have this peace over our house, the way we do. When the Lord made us, He made us truly one."

Mrs. Wilber fills her time caring for her four youngsters and serves as choir director for the Founder Methodist Church. "I'm a little different from

Mothers of Mongoloids Will Appeal for Funds To Continue Research

WASHINGTON (AP)—An organization of mothers of Mongoloid children plans an appeal for private money if Congress fails to cut off federal funds for a promising research program against Mongolism.

The research program is a drug designed to duplicate a natural chemical deficient in the brains of Mongoloids—albeit still in existence in the United States and is aimed at determining whether a still-experimental drug can improve the serious mental retardation but that "the I.Q. (intelligence quotient) results are inconclusive as yet."

The mothers' organization, a Washington-area group called "Mothers of Young Mongoloids," recently mounted a national letter-writing campaign protesting what it said was a threat to the program because of proposed cuts in appropriations for the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness.

$50,000 Sought
Mrs. Donald G. Wyman of Alexandria, Va., a spokesman for the organization of 55 mothers, said in an interview her organization was encouraged earlier this week when a Senate subcommittee recommended by the Nixon administration's budget for all projects of the neurological institute. About $50,000 had been sought for the Mongolism program.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., singled out the project for special praise in its report. "I think if he were dead, I'd know it. I can't see him anymore. That is, his face, I can visualize him, but I never see his face. I wonder why?" Then, pulling out a handkerchief, she dabbed at her eyes all the while. "I'm a weeper," she apologized. Health, if it passed Congress in said Louise Mulligan: "I have its present form."

If funds for the Mongolism program are not provided in the ultimate appropriation, said Mrs. Wyman, "our only alternative will be to try to seek money from private foundations."

A spokesman for Magnuson confirmed that a "tremendous number" of letters had come in, mostly from one part of the country.

Have Thorough Check

BY GEORGE C. THOSTESON, further useful data of the kidney
M. D. is involved

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I would like any information on blood in one's urine, cause, symptoms, complications, etc.

Your column has put our family's mind at ease many times when we imagine some thing is serious and it really isn't. But of course we believe annual checkups are a must. Mr. A.M.

I don't expect you to remember all the detail, but this will give you the general idea — blood in the urine should be investigated, and while tracking down the exact source can at times be difficult, there are methods of accomplishing it.

Finally, such bleeding can be from all other sources, not directly involving urinary or kidney disease. Among such possibilities are excessive use of anticoagulants (blood thinners), purpura, drug sensitivity, scurvy, and other conditions affecting the coagulability of the blood.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: After a long bout with acne I find my face covered with enlarged pores and marks. I have heard that there is an abrasive procedure which can minimize the marks. What type of doctor does this and what does it cost? N.S.

Dermatologists do it. Your regular doctor can refer you to one. Cost depends on how much has to be done.

The blood may come from any part of the urinary tract, from the kidneys down to the outlet. Infection of either kidneys or bladder is the commonest cause but there are others. A stone lodged in the ureter (duct from kidney to bladder) is another common cause, but that usually is associated with infection, medically.

Note to M.S. The reports of a "fulminating infection" in the heart and of myocarditis are not contradictory. Myocarditis means heart muscle infection — myo for muscle, cardio for heart. Its for infection. "Fulminating" means violently exploding — a severe, violent, usually is associated with infection, medically.

Starting at the top, possibilities include disease in the kidneys themselves. Bright's disease, or pyelonephritis, or even a tumor.

In the ureters, either stones or polyps can cause bleeding.

In the bladder, chronic or acute cystitis (infection), tumors, polyps, stones or ulcers also can cause bleeding. Hunner's ulcers, which are very tiny, can be hard to locate but still are a source of bleeding.

Prostate disease sometimes cause bleeding.

The urethra (outlet from the bladder) also can bleed because of ulceration, polyps and stones.

Thus, while analysis of urine can show the presence of blood, or of infection, determining the source is the next step.

First is cystoscopic examination, the use of a very fine tube and a light, affording direct view of the bladder, prostate, and outlets of the ureters. Specimens also can be obtained from the outlet of each ureter, so it can be determined whether the bleeding is coming from the left or the right one or from the kidney above.

X-ray will show stones in the kidney area, and an intravenous pyelogram (X-ray with use of a special dye) will give still

Dallas Wins Playoff Tuneup

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys had it in the clutch Sunday in a 20-10 victory over Washington and took a good head of steam into their National Football League American Conference showdown with Cleveland in the Cotton Bowl Dec. 28.

Cowboy Coach Tom Landry said he was "well pleased with the overall play and performance. We had a very good rush."

Dallas dropped Sonny Jurgensen, the NFL's leading passer five times and kept the 13-year veteran from throwing a touchdown pass only the second time this season that has happened.

Rookie cornerback Otto Brown and safety Mel Renfro had excellent games. Renfro intercepted his 10th pass of the year—high in the NFL.

Landry wouldn't say whether he planned to start Brown against Cleveland next Sunday.

the sudden success to the simple matter of experience and to the improved "coordination" between Horn and his receivers.

"They refer to it as timing, but it's really the coordination it up . . . how many steps down a receiver will go on a particular pattern, how far Horn will drop back in getting set," he explained.

And then there was the matter of pass protection. Not once did the Cardinals drop Horn and only twice was their serious pressure. Bengtson termed it "very good" and noted that even reserve Billy Stevens managed to get his pass off under a blazing safety blitz by Larry Wilson.

The Cardinal defense also had a part in the Packer success. St. Louis, though stocked with outstanding veterans Wilson and Jerry Stovall, also had two rookies in the secondary.

A Loose One

Bengtson, however, did not consider that the key factor. "The type of coverage they use is a loose one," he explained. "They zone a lot and their other defense have zone principles. The receiver is covered but loosely."

And when the passer is hot, that coverage is vulnerable, he insinuated.

The coach was not completely surprised by the attack, however.

"We thought we could move the ball against them . . . in the air and on the ground. I thought those first two third-down situations were important plays. It was third and nine and six and we were forced to throw. They were clutch situations and Horn made good," he went on.

There were two particular disappointments in the generally fun day. Willson's 88-yard scamper with a recovered fumble

'It Was an Emotional Moment,' Says Davis

GREEN BAY — His name is Willie.

That's right. Willie. Willie Delford Davis.

Willie grew up the hard way. A Negro youngster in the deep South. Born in Lisbon, La. High school at Booker T. Washington in Texarkana, Ark. Gambling College.

But Willie Delford Davis made it to the top of his profession.

Sunday was Willie Davis Day in Wisconsin, so proclaimed by Governor Warren Knowles. And Sunday, Willie was enshrined in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Hall of Fame.

"Willie Davis is a wonderful example of what dedication, application and concentration can do for an individual. In his case, he applied himself to football and developed himself into one of the outstanding players ever in this league. He is a fine example for young players and a fine leader for our defense."

That's what Packer Coach Phil Bengtson said of his defensive captain and brilliant defensive end Sunday.

Dramatic Exit

But what was probably more eloquent was the standing ovation . . . several minutes long . . . he received from the 50,000 people in Lambeau Field Sunday when he made his dramatic exit from the game early in the fourth quarter.

There was something even ble and John Gilliam's 100-yard touchdown return of the second half kickoff.

Wilson's dash was "just a foot race with Horn and he would have won that," Bengtson said. The failure to halt Gilliam was something else, though.

"It was a fine run and poor coverage on our part," he said. "It was embarrassing because our kick coverage . . . all kick coverage . . . has been good all year. I wouldn't be surprised if we led the league in it."

Grid Coach Injured Four Hurt Helping Car Stuck in Ditch

CAROLINE — Four persons, including a high school football coach who suffered two broken legs — were injured Sunday when a car slammed into another car they were helping push out of a ditch.

Gary Raether, 25, coach at Marathon High School, Marathon, was listed in serious condition at Theda Clark Hospital, Neenah.

He was one of three persons hospitalized after an accident about a mile west of here on Shawano County Trunk M about 2 a.m. Sunday.

Raether had been a member of a party which went to help Miss Barbara Mundt, 19, Manawa, after the car she was driving became stuck in the ditch near the intersection of M and the Grant Town Line Road.

Wisconsin State Patrol officials said Miss Mundt had attempted to make a U-turn on the road and the left rear wheel of her car dropped into a snowbank on the south side of the road.

She went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Raether, where a group of persons agreed to help, including Raether, who was visiting his parents.

The Mundt auto was being pushed out of the ditch when another car, driven by a 17-year-old Marion youth, came west on Grant Town Line Road.

The investigating officer said the approaching auto slammed into the Mundt car, spinning it around 180 degrees. Three persons attempting to help push the vehicle out of the snow were struck as it turned.

Raether was thrown into the street, while Jerry Ashenbrenner, 22, Leopolis, and Dennis Buntrock, about the same age, were thrown into the ditch and knocked unconscious. The trio was taken to Clintonville Community Hospital.

Raether was then transferred to Theda Clark, while Buntrock was treated and released for a bruised right thigh. Ashenbrenner remained in the hospital this morning suffering from cuts and bruises to the head and face and a sprained right knee.

Clarence Popraschke, about 35, route 2, Tigerton, also was stopped to help push the Mundt auto out of the ditch and was hit by the auto of the Marion teen-ager after it collided with the Mundt vehicle.

He complained of stiffness and soreness in his left arm and leg.

Uninjured in the incident was Ellen Olson, 18, Caroline, whom authorities said had attempted to flag down the approaching auto and had to jump aside to avoid being hit.

Authorities said the car which struck the Mundt vehicle had seven teen-age passengers, ranging in age from 15 to 19 and from Marion, Clintonville and Big Falls.

Four of them suffered minor injuries but did not require treatment.

Charges may be brought in the case, according to the investigating officer.

The accident occurred while during a heavy snowfall, with several inches of light snow on the road.

Letters to North Pole Youngsters Don't Waste Any Time With Words

BY ANN GREENWALD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

First stop on the mail route from Appleton to the North Pole is the Appleton Post Office, where letters to Santa Claus may be intercepted by curious carriers before being sped on to their destination for a final sorting by Santa's elves.

Hundreds of letters already have been received, variously locating the north pole in the "polar region," Alaska, Wisconsin, U.S.A., "International," or just care of the Appleton Post Office.

Although some of the letters have a regular six-cent stamp, other young writers feel that a penny stamp is enough, have substituted gasoline station trading stamps, Christmas seals and drawings, or have eliminated the stamp altogether.

One modern young man evidently has Santa all figured out, and announced in the beginning of his letter that "you are going on a helicopter."

Another young gentleman, observing his father, no doubt, asks for a whole collection of toys, plus "a check book."

A shopping list for another little boy reveals a trailor here in Packerland: "I want a Rams football suit and helmet. I have the shoulder pads."

Several youngsters didn't waste any time with words. They just went through the mail-order catalogues and cut out the things they wanted. One girl, just to make sure Santa got the hint, put on the outside of the envelope that she "would like everything in this envelope."

Spelling is a big hang-up for many little letter writers, but they get the message across nonetheless. One letter started out with a thank-you — "Last year you gave all the toys I wanted. Thank you so much."

Another — "I went a football and I went a new hi handle hors a 5 sheed."

One boy informed Santa that he was interested in acquiring a "tipbriter."

One misspeller didn't care what she got for Christmas; she just wanted the proper authorities to know that "I love Santa Claus." Another request went to "Santa Clause" at the "North Powl."

Letters written with mothers in mind tend to be a little biased. One girl promised that "I won't tease Jimmie and I'll go to bed when Mommy says."

Mom and Dad are remembered by most kids. After a long list of requests, one letter concluded with "You don't have to bring me and my two sisters all of them because you have to get my mom and dad some presents, too."

One little girl, after listing all her "wants," and assuring Santa that she had been good all year, made a promise for the year to come and took a pot-shot at her brother: "I will be good Santa and I hope my brother is nice."

Santa still remains a hero-figure, with one letter writer proclaiming boldly, "Ah, dear Santa Claus, I love you." Another letter concluded with a "God bless you Santa Claus."

And just in case Santa gets scared, one correspondent told Santa that he didn't have to "be afraid of our dog. He is in his pen and will not bite you."

One little girl enclosed a tip, or something, with her letter. The four pennies inside may or may not convince Santa that her four requests should be granted.

Postmaster Francis Sumnicht said that every year

New London Elderly Housing 3 Weeks Ahead of Schedule Project's Developer Gives Construction Report

NEW LONDON — The 62-unit housing for the elderly development on Division Street is three weeks ahead of schedule and may be finished a month earlier than the August, 1970, completion date, it was reported recently.

Forrest Wendt, of Wendt, Cedarholm and Tippens, Inc., Northfield, Ill., the developer, revealed the situation in his second construction progress report on the senior citizens' apartments project. The development is being funded through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

To complete the apartments early, Wendt said, construction must continue at the present rate. Over 80 persons have indicated interest in living in the apartments.

The next step will be to prepare the deck for the four-inch insulating concrete slab, it was reported. Bondable roof composition then will be applied.

Once the roof is completed, the building will be enclosed and the interior construction started. Concrete block fire enclosures will be built for the stairways, and a gas-fired incinerator will be installed.

Unit partitions of steel studs and sheet rock construction will be installed, with all pipes, tubing and conduits enclosed.

The report lists the following phases of construction:

- August Winter Co. is working on heating and ventilation. The boilers are installed and gas is piped to the building.
- The New London Utilities have the water installation completed, and electrical service is connected.
- The National Electric Service Co. plans to have the main control panel for the electricity installed by Jan. 1. To date, they report having installed 15,000 feet of half-inch conduit, 5,000 feet of 3/4-inch conduit and 3,500 feet of one-inch conduit.

- The exterior of the building, brown brick and spandrel is about a third completed.
- The insulated glass windows will be installed during January.
- L. J. Urban, New London Housing Authority inspector, reports that all work completed is in accordance with the plans and specifications.
- The five-story building originally was scheduled to be completed in August but may be finished as much as a month early, if construction continues at the present rate.

Women Quote Bible to 'Scrooge' Legislators

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Some Wisconsin legislators will be receiving Christmas greeting cards aimed at making them feel like Scrooges this year.

Two Milwaukee housewives, unhappy about the legislature's cuts in the State welfare budget, designed and produced a card bearing a biblical message which they believe fits some of the lawmakers.

The passage, from the Book of Isaiah, reads: "Woe to those who decree iniquitous decrees, and the writers who keep writing oppression, to turn aside the need from justice and to rob the poor of my people of their right, that widows may be their spoil and that they may make the fatherless their prey."

Mrs. Carol Seaver came across the passage when she was reading the Bible while confined by an illness earlier week session next month.

This year, she sought assistance from Mrs. Jo Rowen, who makes her own Christmas cards with a silk screen outfit.

The women used a depiction of the Texas state capitol for the cover design, removing one word and the Lone Star from the state seal. They left in the words "the State of," but cut out "Texas" so that card senders could write in a description of their choice, such as neglect, apathy, oppression, and so on.

"I thought we should somehow personally reach the men who run Wisconsin," said Mrs. Seaver. "It has nothing to do with party politics. It's more a matter of basic justice when they turn their backs on the poor."

The women distributed the cards to various individuals and organizations so they could be sent to the legislators, who returned to Madison for a two-week session next month.

Mrs. June Blumberg, 21, of Milwaukee, died Sunday when the car in which she was riding collided with another auto on Highway 15 near East Troy in Wauwatosa County.

Ira D. Smith, 21, of rural Wisconsin Rapids, died early Saturday when he was struck by a car as he crossed a street in Wisconsin Rapids.

Two Mukwonago residents, Paul E. Martin, 3, and Arnold K. Peters Jr., 22, were killed Friday night when their car left the road near Burlington.

Daniel Carney, 28, of rural Appleton, died Friday night when his car and a passenger train collided at a crossing in Little Chute.

Smoking Is Down 4.3 Per Cent

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin residents are cutting down on their smoking, according to State Revenue Secretary James Morgan.

Morgan said that cigarette tax revenues indicated a 4.3 per cent drop in cigarette consumption, compared to a decline of about 2 per cent nationally.

The state's higher cigarette tax may have something to do with the cutback, but Morgan said the decline showed up even before the tax was boosted 10 to 14 cents per pack on Sept. 1.

Morgan's department checked the smoking trend by tracing the portion of the tax — one cent per pack — which goes to support the Outdoor Recreation Act Program (ORAP).

Revenues increase. Statistics showed that 195.6 million packs of cigarettes were sold during July, August, September and October. That compared with 204.5 million during the same period a year ago, a decrease of almost nine million packs.

Revenues from the cigarette tax, however, have increased. Through October, the tax had produced $22.2 million in revenues, compared with $17.9 million during the first ten months of 1968. However, the 1969 figure includes about $1.1 million gained from a one-time stock inventory levy.

Morgan also said the effect of the expanded 4 per cent sales tax which also went into effect Sept. 1 was still unclear.

Results Uncertain

Collections received so far indicated that the tax is producing about $17 million a month, a figure that would fall far short of the $237.7 million expected in the first ten months of the current fiscal year.

"On the basis of these figures, it appears that we're talking the Christmas buying season."

Members of the ambulance crew are required to hold valid advanced Red Cross first aid cards. Other classes conducted throughout the year included the use of a spine fracture stretcher and extraction tools and equipment for removing victims pinned in automobiles.

The ambulance transports about 200 persons a year and has been operating three years. Townships and municipalities contract for the ambulance service.

Demented King Is Tricked by Magi

(Editor's note: This is the fourth installment of a six-part Christmas series dealing with the House of Herod and the broader Greek-Roman framework in which the Christmas event occurred and which it changed.)

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

In a slow, steady rhythm, the barechested slaves swung the long fans of peacock feathers above King Herod's head, keeping off the flies. He sat propped on pillows, paring an apple, mouthing it off the blade.

His hands shook. His breath came haltingly, in short gasps.

Herod Commands Magi to Appear Before Him in Attempt to Learn of Their Quest for a Newborn King.

Thin wisps of smoke curled from the three-legged enervated brazier. A waterclock dripped monotonously.

Outside, along the covered pergola, he heard the sandalled footsteps, and at once, a sentry stepped through the doorway drapes to announce the presence of the eastern travelers who had stirred up the city with their inquiries.

Herod, the knife still in his hand, motioned for their admission. They came forward, a stately looking delegation, in sashed robes, salaaming before him in the Oriental manner.

So these were the Magi, the sages of the hoary metaphysical books and celestial signs, the strangers who had been asking about a new-born king, a "Wonderful Counsellor," a "Prince of Peace," who would reveal "the glory of the Lord" and whose government would have no end.

To Herod, it was sheer treason.

Herod, disease-ridden, often delirious, already obsessed with phobias about suspected plots against him, raised himself stiffly on the cushions, a frosty smile forming on his lips.

"The king greets thee," he said, coughing. He ran the back of his hand across his mouth, and leaned forward, forcing a "light to the nations" of the tone of congratulatory solicitude into his voice. "Say on now, when didst thou behold this marvel in the firmament. It is a subject of our most eager desire."

They had reached Jerusalem after a long overland journey, apparently from Persia, looking for the illustrious child, a manifestation of the Omnipotent, foretold in their recondite tomes of Jupiter, Saturn and Mars, and signalled by a culminating phenomenon in the stars.

The bearded chief Magus cited the day and hour, along with details about a series of planetary conjunctions in 7 B.C., maxed by a triple conjunction of Jupiter, Saturn and Mars.

"The cycle is complete," he said firmly. "It was the susons swooping down on him, swords in hand, his murdered wife Miriamne wailing in the night, his guards abandoning him, the hounds at his throat.

At the urging of physicians, he spent long hours in the hot baths of Callirhoe on the Dead Sea, and then more baths in warm oil at his palace. But the medications gave only temporary relief, and his disorders increased.

Occasionally, he broke into wild lamentations over friends he had doomed at random, and then in opposite fashion, he would rage violently against them.

At the same time, his unabated investigations and enveloping espionage system kept whetting rumors of treachery by his own sons of Miriamne, Alexander and Aristobulus. At one point, Herod put them on trial before Caesar Augustus in Beirut, where the emperor effected a reconciliation.

But a rival son, Antipater, by a wife of Idumean rather than Jewish stock, received suspicions against the two. Herod had 200 courtiers confined for questioning.

Some died from the lash, refusing to confess anything. But two tall, muscular guards, Jacobus and Tyrannus, who often had ridden with Alexander after Herod cast them off, confessed under torture that his son wanted them to kill the king, saving afterward he had fallen on his own sword.

Adding to Herod's mounting, feverish alarms, his barber, Trypho, whispered to him that an old soldier, Tero, who had served with Herod in past wars, had urged the barber—in Alexander's behalf—to slit the king's throat while trimming his beard.

Locked in Irons

Whipping off the avron, Herod lunged to his feet, shouting for his Galatian guards to lock the barber in irons and also the old comrade-at-arms, Tero, and his son.

In his hysteria, he ordered them all beheaded, and also the 200 officers in custody. As for Alexander and Aristobulus, he had them bound and taken to his fortified palace in Sebaste and strangled to death there, the place where other members of the Hasmonean dynasty had been executed.

That was the last of them, as the deranged Herod counted it, the end of the royal Jewish clan that had beset and hadgered him, threatened and fought him, slandered his own ancestry, the last of that impudent, unmanageable brood.

He had beat them, finally, he gloated furiously, purged his kingdom of them, exterminated them all, his challengers, his comrades... his cherished Miriamne... his own sons and hers.

However, a still nobler prince, of David's line, now tented in that realm.

Trembling, his sagging body dry with fevers and inflamed with itching, Herod threw off his clothes and shut himself in the steaming palace tepidarium, deluging himself with manding oils, unguents, towel-stalking lot of them. "Miriamne, the strigilis on his back, in ianne," he murmured, his head no orderly sequence, gulping sagging, "Bring her! Bring her milk and tonics, railing incoherently at frightened slaves.

Then he gorged himself on He staggered to his bed, call-more food, trying to soothe the ing for powders on his flesh, ulcers scalding his insides. He choking for breath when he also suffered from dropsy, tried to lie down, perspiring and which puffed his tissue with ex-clammy now, huddling under-cess fluids, from fevers, convul-downy quilts in a chair, his sen-sions, fierce head pains, a burn-sibilities drained, oblivious at the body rash and festering tu-one moment and starkly alert! more on his abdomen and feet, the next, rigid with unnamable.

"Miriamne... Miriamne!" At one point, he grabbed a knife and tried to stab himself, but a guard stopped him. He seemed not to notice it, or care, and bolted for the door. When Antipater was brought before him, he pointed a wavering finger, bawling piteously. "He would kill the king! Yet thou, O Antipater, was the in-bu-ble, and he croaked the com-former against my slain sons."

PALA, Calif. "We're so happy," the Rev. Victory Turchetti said Thursday in announcing what he described as "the unexpected sell-out" of 100,000 cards at 25 cents each.

"First, we must pay the bills. But, no, there is no doubt now that the income will help us keep going another year."

The eight-grade school, built 10 years ago at the 153-year-old Roman Catholic Church mission, serves 100 boys and girls—including 115 Indians living on or near the Rincon and Pala Indian Reservations of northern San Diego County.

Bank officials confirmed Saturday that Calley had personally opened the "William L. Calley Defense Fund" account during the week.

Seven years ago, the priest hit on the idea of sending Christmas drawings by the pupils as greetings to school benefactors. This expanded into the sale of March, 1968 and one about six months earlier. So no date has been set for the trial.

The parish sold 56,000 cards last year. It relies for sales on word of mouth advertising, church mailing lists and the parish gift shop for tourists.

Arab Summit Produces Differing Approaches

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — Most like a chief of state by the three different viewpoints Arab leaders, and was sealed on merged today as delegates from 14 Arab states and the Palestine Liberation Organization met in private session seeking a new strategy against Israel.

Sources at the Arab summit conference said the first lengthy discussions on Sunday produced those suggested courses of action:

1. Several rulers want to continue the search for a political solution although they do not necessarily subscribe to any of the formulas proposed since the 1967 war.
2. A number of states, reportedly including Egypt and Libya, favor launching a general war against Israel in an attempt to recover the territory lost in 1967. But some leaders doubt that the Arabs are ready for another round of hostilities.
3. One group of leaders holds the view that territories occupied by Israel—the Sinai Desert, the west bank of the Jordan River and the Golan Heights of Syria—would provide ideal bases for Palestinian guerrilla wars against Israel.

The Palestinians, these leaders believe, should form a government in exile under guerrilla chief Yasser Arafat. The guerrillas should be given maximum backing by the Arab states, they say, because guerrilla action would eventually force Israel to negotiate with the Palestinian provisional government and reach an agreement under which both sides could live within Israel's pre-1967 borders.

Sources in Arafat's delegation said the Palestinians are not interested in forming a provisional government because this would cause "political complications" for the guerrilla movement.

Arafat himself was treated as

States is not wholly biased in Israel's favor.

Many delegates appeared to regard the reports with skepticism.

"America has been against us all along," one official said, "how do we know that this is not some new subtle trick?"

The Jordanian delegation declined to comment.

One result of the first day's talks was the announcement that Syria and Morocco have decided to restore diplomatic relations after a four-year break caused when the Syrian radio insulted King Hassan.

Another inter-Arab dispute, the recent border fighting between Saudi Arabia and South Yemen, has been shifted to the sidelines of the conference, sources reported. The two countries agreed to accept an offer by Nasser to mediate.

Conference sources said Arafat asked the other Arab leaders to "strengthen the Palestine revolution" by giving his movement more money and arms and by granting the guerrillas complete freedom of action on territory adjoining Israel and the occupied territories.

Delegation members said there is general agreement on support for the guerrilla struggle against Israel, but differences remain over whether to concentrate first on recovering territory lost in the 1967 war, or to give immediate and unconditional backing to Arafat's call for total liberation of Palestine.

Moroccan informants said King Hassan's speech emphasized that the Arab peoples expect much from the conference and will not be satisfied with a vaguely worded final communiqué.

"Our view is that the communiqué should include concrete decisions unanimously agreed to and effectively carried out," the Moroccan sources said.

U.S.-Israel Tiff

There was much excited discussion in conference corridors of the reported disagreement between Israel and the United States over an American proposal for Israel's evacuation of most of the occupied west bank of the Jordan.

Reports from JERUSALEM said Israeli officials viewed the proposal as an American attempt to demonstrate to the Rabat conference that the United

Helicopter Shot Down During Action in Northerly Province

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. helicopter in southernmost An Xuy coastal plain to get rice from the Saigon government guerrilla contacts.

President Nguyen Van Thieu visited the headquarters of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division 20 miles northwest of Saigon to wish the Americans a merry Christmas. He told them "many American troops will leave Vietnam next year according to our plan of replacement by Vietnamese troops." But he gave no figures beyond the 50,000 President Nixon has announced will be withdrawn by April 15.

In Saigon, legislative leaders protested police failure to interdict the border to South Vietnam's fire with progovernment demonstrators who smashed through the National Assembly building Saturday.

Northern Coast

It was the third time in 10 days the paratroopers had fought with North Vietnamese troops in the foothills leading from mountainous jungles along the border to South Vietnam's fire with progovernment demonstrators who smashed through the National Assembly building Saturday.

U.S. Air Force B52s bombed infiltration routes leading from Laos through the jungled mountains and foothills as intelligence indicated growing infiltration of North Vietnamese troops and supplies into the northwestern part of the country.

Near Border

The bombers attacked base camps, bunkers and gun positions less than two miles from the Laotian border and 11 miles southeast of Khe Sanh, the U.S. Command said.

More than 40 enemy troops were reported killed in other small actions across the country. Fifteen of them died under a U.S. artillery bombardment 67 miles north of Saigon at Quan Loi, the U.S. Command reported, and 12 were killed by mili-

Panther Party Funds Under IRS Scrutiny

CHICAGO (AP) — Two Chicago newspapers say the Internal Revenue Service is looking into the finances of the Black Panther party.

The Chicago Tribune and the Chicago Sun Times both reported in their Monday editions that a Washington source had told of a probe which began several months ago.

The Panthers were organized as a political group in 1966. Their main source of revenue is their newspaper, which sells for 25 cents and reportedly has a weekly circulation of close to 100,000.

At hearings last June in Washington, a former member of the party told the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee that Panther income ranged from $50,000 to $100,000 a month at the group's national headquarters in Berkeley, Calif.

The party also reportedly collects thousands of dollars in donations from other sources. The newspapers said the source indicated that the party headquarters had never filed an income tax return.

The Sun-Times also reported that the IRS has launched an investigation into whether the Panthers have violated federal gun laws in their Chicago regional office.

A sizeable arsenal of weapons and ammunition was seized during a Dec. 4 pre-dawn raid on a West Side Chicago apartment during which Fred Hampton, Illinois Panther chairman, and Mark Clark, Peoria Panther leader, were killed.

Whole Town Chipping in So Dad Can Visit Son Wounded in Vietnam

BAY, Ark. (AP) — Thanks to last week and organized a fund-raising drive.

Swanner said Sunday that though Verlin Lamberson is more than $550 had been donated, mostly in contributions of 50 cents to $15.

Residents of this town of about 800 are raising money so Lamberson can visit his only son during the holidays at an Army hospital in Yokohama.

Lamberson learned about two weeks ago that his son, Army Pfc Thomas M. Lamberson, 20, had been severely wounded in Vietnam when he dropped a bomb on his platoon during his mission.

Despite having been on strike for the past eight weeks as an employee of the General Electric plant at Jonesboro, Lamberson decided he should fly to Yokohama during the holidays.

Fund Drive

Mayor Ben Swanner of Bay learned of Lamberson's hopes

Then Local 747 of the striking International Electrical Workers chipped in an additional $200, bringing the pot to $750.

"This is a small town and we are all close," Swanner said. "Everyone has responded wholeheartedly."

Swanner said a round-trip ticket would cost $988 and that he hoped there would be enough money for Lamberson and his wife to make the trip.

"My wife and I feel it is great how the people have expressed their concern for Tommy," Lamberson said. "We will never be able to repay them. We are so very thankful. It was a big surprise to us."

Lamberson said he had talked with his son and that the youth's left foot was to be removed early this week.

Young Lamberson was drafted May 14.

"He didn't want to go," Lamberson said. "That makes it hurt even more, because he didn't want to go."

Maddox Notes Controversy In Naming Rusk to Faculty

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) Gov. Lester Maddox says the proposed appointment of former Secretary of State Dean Rusk to the University of Georgia faculty "could create quite a controversy."

"And I rightfully think it should," the governor said in a telephone interview Sunday. "Things have been going real good over there at the university in Athens and I hope nothing happens to upset the applecart."

Maddox's remarks marked the first official comment on the proposed appointment since it was disclosed by Fred C. Davison, president of the university. Davison wants Rusk to take the Samuel H. Sibley professorship of international law.

Members of the state Board of Regents, who must approve faculty appointments in the university system, generally have refused to discuss the proposal Rusk has declined comment.

However, one member, who requested anonymity, said it "would be a miracle if the regents picked him."

Opposition to Rusk's appointment apparently stems from what some state officials have termed his liberal posture as secretary of state.

Maddox was asked why he felt the Rusk appointment would create controversy.

"I'd rather not comment on it," he replied.

Davison, in an announcement Saturday, said he proposed the appointment effective Sept. 1, 1970.

Sources said the appointment would not have been recommended officially unless Rusk had indicated he would accept.

Rusk, born in Cherokee County, Ga., is 60. He served as secretary of state through the Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

Youngsters Don't Waste Any Time With Words

BY ANN GREENWALD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

First stop on the mail route from Appleton to the North Pole is the Appleton Post Office, where letters to Santa Claus may be intercepted by curious carriers before being sped on to their destination for a final sorting by Santa's elves.

Hundreds of letters already have been received, variously locating the north pole in the "polar region," Alaska, Wisconsin, U.S.A., "International," or just care of the Appleton Post Office.

Although some of the letters have a regular six-cent stamp, other young writers feel that a penny stamp is enough, have substituted gasoline station trading stamps, Christmas seals and drawings, or have eliminated the stamp altogether.

One modern young man evidently has Santa all figured out, and announced in the beginning of his letter that "you are going on a helicopter."

Another young gentleman, observing his father, no doubt, asks for a whole collection of toys, plus "a check book."

A shopping list for another little boy reveals a trailer here in Packerland "I want a Rams football suit and helmet. I have the shoulder pads."

Several youngsters didn't waste any time with words. They just went through the mail-order catalogues and cut out the things they wanted. One girl, just to make sure Santa got the hint, put on the outside of the envelope that she "would like everything in this envelope."

Spelling is a big hang-up for many little letter writers, but they get the message across nonetheless. One letter started out with a thank-you -- "Last year you gave all the toys I wanted. Thank you so much."

Another -- "I went a football and I went a new hi handle bors a 5 shed."

One boy informed Santa that he was interested in acquiring a "tipbriter."

One misspeller didn't care what she got for Christmas; she just wanted the proper authorities to know that "I love Santa Clays." Another request went to "Santa Clause" at the "North Powl."

Letters written with mothers in mind tend to be a little biased. One girl promised that "I won't tease Jimmie and I'll go to bed when Mommy says."

Mom and Dad are remembered by most kids. After a long list of requests, one letter concluded with "You don't have to bring me and my two sisters all of them. Because you have to get my mom and dad some presents too."

One little girl, after listing all her "wants," and assuring Santa that she had been good all year, made a promise for the year to come and took a pot-shot at her brother: "I will be good Santa and I hope my brother is nice."

Santa still remains a hero-figure, with one letter writer proclaiming boldly, "Ah, dear Santa Claus, I love you." Another letter concluded with a "God bless you Santa Claus."

And just in case Santa gets scared, one correspondent told

Santa that he didn't have to "be afraid of our dog. He is in his pen and will not bite you."

One little girl enclosed a tip, or something, with her letter. The four pennies inside may or may not convince Santa that her four requests should be granted.

Postmaster Francis Sumnicht said that every year some club or organization collects the letters at the Post Office and tries to answer them. If there are any requests from needy children, they are filled, although there evidently aren't many needy families in the Appleton area, Sumnicht said.

The past several years, the letters have been answered by English students at the Appleton high schools, Sumnicht said. Unfortunately, almost half of the letters don't include addresses or last names, and the letters can't be answered.

Letters also come after Christmas, Sumnicht said, thanking Santa for the toys he delivered.

Traffic Nears Saturation In Appleton

COG Survey Predicts Area Will Face Congestion Problems

If present trends continue, certain roads in the Appleton area soon will become saturated with traffic, creating a serious congestion problem, a State Department of Transportation survey has indicated.

The survey, conducted last spring and this autumn, revealed that there has been heavy increases in the use of certain roads. Some of the most severe increases were on Memorial Drive south of the bridge, the E. College Avenue bridge and W. Wisconsin Avenue at Badger Avenue.

No conclusions have been drawn yet but department officials are beginning to feed the traffic counts into computers to come up with a simulated traffic model which will point out immediate congestion areas and project where congestion could develop.

The survey was conducted through the Fox Valley Council of Governments (COG) as part of its three-year comprehensive transportation study. COG planners are studying the figures, comparing them with 1960 counts.

The study, to be completed in early 1972, will analyze area zoning ordinances, many of which have contributed to traffic problems because they are inadequate. The study, which also will consider land use and other factors, includes the entire COG area, except for Sherwood and Oshkosh.

Traffic volumes definitely have been increased at a fairly rapid rate," said Jerome Starling, COG director of transportation planning.

He said inadequate zoning control and the failure to consider land uses have played a major roll in causing congestion at certain locations.

An example, he said, is State 47 near the Valley Fair Shopping Center. The Winnebago County zoning ordinance did not require controls on access, he said and this has become a problem area.

Starling said the traffic in front of Valley Fair has increased nearly 70 per cent since 1960.

There were other examples of significant increases in the Appleton area. A major one was the E. College Avenue bridge where traffic increased 90 per cent, mainly because of the new high school and residential growth in southeastern Appleton and along Newberry Street.

Other increases during this decade were W. Wisconsin Avenue just east of Badger, over 50 per cent; the Oneida Street bridge, 40 per cent; Memorial Drive just north of Seymour Street, 30 per cent; W. Wisconsin between Mason and Summit 42 per cent, and W. College Avenue at the Soo Line Railway tracks, 40 per cent.

The traffic count was taken by tapes laid across the road for a 48-hour period during weekdays, giving the surveyors figures to compute the daily traffic flow during an average 24-hour weekday.

The counts will be tied with house and roadside interviews taken during the same period to determine the origin and destination of motorists' trips.

The final report, Starling said, will not only provide a regional transportation plan but "very definite recommendations on what should be done in the area."

The First Skating of the season at Appleton's Jones Park over the weekend brought about the usual number of bumps, bruises and chilly children. ## 13 Receive Hospital Treatment 17 Injured in Auto Mishaps Sunday

A rash of traffic accidents in Appleton and Outagamie County Sunday left 17 persons injured, 13 of them requiring hospital treatment.

Seven were injured in one accident at 11:46 a.m. at State 76 and Ellen Lane in the Town of Greenville and three were injured in each of two other accidents.

Taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital for treatment of multiple bumps and bruises in the Town of Greenville accident were: Roy Papendorf, 32, route 1, Manawa, driver of one car; his wife, Audrey, 28; and their two children, Cindy, 8, and Tammy 6; Marlene Zuehlke, 36, 112 Ellen Lane, driver of the second car, and her two children, Susan 11, and Dennis, 10.

According to authorities, both vehicles were eastbound on State 76 and the accident happened when Papendorf apparently attempted to pass the Zuehlke auto as she attempted to make a left turn onto Ellen Lane.

Three Injured

Three were taken to Appleton Memorial for treatment of injuries suffered in a two car accident at County Trunk E and an exit ramp from U.S. 41 at 1:03 p.m.

Mary Radix, 43, 230 E. Fairview St., Green Bay, driver of one car, suffered bumps and bruises, while Jane Buremister, 27, 408 E. Pacific St., Appleton, and her daughter, Terry Ann, 18 months, suffered facial injuries.

The Radix auto was proceeding onto County Trunk E from the exit ramp and the Buremister auto was northbound on County Trunk E when the accident occurred, authorities reported.

Head-on Collision

A head-on collision on U.S. 45, near Julius Road in the Town of Greenville, sent three persons to Appleton Memorial and New London Community hospitals at northbound Hoffmann auto.

Injured were Dale Hoffmann, 29, 804 Harmell St., Oshkosh, driver of one car, who suffered wrist and knee injuries and multiple abrasions; JoAnn Bassette, 24, 733 First St., Menasha, driver of the second car, suffering facial injuries and multiple abrasions.

According to witnesses, the Bassette auto was southbound on U.S. 45 when it skidded out of control into the path of the Hoffmann auto.

Vernoy Akina, 29, 101 State St., Black Creek, suffered facial injuries when his car left State 47, two miles south of Black Creek at 3 a.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Lyle Richl, 53, 723 E. Glendale Ave., Appleton, complained of a stiff neck after the car driven by her husband was struck from behind by an auto operated by David Warnum, 31, Shoclon, on State 187, near State 54, at 5 12 p.m. Sunday.

Two persons were injured in separate Appleton accidents after their vehicles struck parked cars.

William Kessler, 31, 116 W. 15th St., Kaukauna, suffered facial injuries when his auto struck a parked car in the 300 block of W. Foster Street at 9 33 p.m. Saturday.

Arlo Sievert, 40, 1206 W. Bell St., Appleton, suffered facial cuts after his car struck a parked auto on W. Bell Street at 6 43 p.m. Sunday.

Chance to Pay Before 1970 Appleton Tax Bills to be Out Before End of Year After All

Appleton's convulsive and suspenseful 1969 tax story will have a happy ending, for City Hall officials at least.

The property tax bills will be out on time.

Treasurer Ray Feuerstein said today that he is "real happy" with the outcome, which puts to rest fears he had voiced earlier that if the budgeting process took too long, his office would be unable to get out the bills before yearend.

"There will be an opportunity for people to pay in the old year," he said this morning.

Finance Director David Champion said the last bill came off the accounting machine in his office at 10:45 p.m. Saturday. After the bills had been "proofed" against the tax roll, the last ones were in the treasurer's office by Sunday afternoon.

Feuerstein's staff began Saturday preparing the bills for mailing. He said by the end of a host of criticism during the budget setting process, couldn't notice of collection hours in his help and I told you so this morning.

Persons who prefer to make their payments before the end of the year for income tax purposes will be given at least 1 1/2 days for payments, he said than two months ago and the accomplishment comes circled on the treasurer's calendar.

The hospital has an accounting machine identical to Champion's. In order to conduct the routine business of his office producing a payroll and paying regular bills -- Champion sent part of his staff with the tax materials to the hospital Thursday and Friday.

Continued Uninterrupted

That way the tax billing could continue uninterrupted while the City Hall machine was occupied with the routine chores.

Ex-Kaukauna Fire Chief Dies Sunday

KAUKAUNA William L. Haupt, Kaukauna Fire Chief for 17 years, died Sunday morning after a brief illness.

Haupt, 56, was a member of the Fire Department for over 30 years, and served as chief from 1952 until his retirement last July. He was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters and a veteran of World War II. He resided at 405 E. 18th St.

Survivors include his widow, Edith, one daughter, Barbara, at home, a son, Gerald, Kaukauna, and three brothers, John of Kaukauna, Henry of Appleton, and Joseph of Little Chute.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Aloysius Catholic Church, Kaukauna, with the Rev. S. A. Borusky officiating. Burial will be at St. Mary Cemetery, Kaukauna. Friends may call at the Greenwood Funeral Home after 2 p.m. Tuesday. The rosary will be said at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Women Boost Labor Force Valley Wives Go to Work

For a steadily increasing number of married women throughout the Fox Valley as well as the nation, running a home and raising a family are only part of their activities.

With each passing year, more and more wives are going to work, taking on either part-time or full-time jobs in addition to their household duties.

As a result, the proportion of wives at work both locally and nationally -- in offices, stores, factories and professional occupations -- is at all-time high.

In the Fox Valley, Calumet County leads with nearly half of its married women -- 45.5 per cent -- in the labor force. Waupaca and Winnebago counties have about the same number of working wives, at 38.6 and 38.5 per cent respectively.

While Outagamie County sees 32.4 per cent of its married women in jobs outside the home.

Nationally, the average sees more than one in three employed, which represents a considerable change over earlier years. For example, in 1952, only one in five wives were in the labor force.

The figures are based upon sampling surveys of the nation's labor force, conducted by the Census Bureau, and upon reports from the Labor Department and others.

They show that no less than 15.8 million wives in the 43.3 million husband-wife families in the United States were in paid jobs in the past year.

Their contributions to the family income have made it easier to cope with the family budget, to save for junior's education and to live on a better scale generally.

Housing Code May Not be Needed for Federal Funds

NEENAH-MENASHA Pro their hope of having a project posed low-cost housing projects started and ready for occupancy for the elderly in the Twin by 1971.

Cities will move a step closer to reality if legislation ruling out requirements for a workable program before a city can apply for funding of such projects is signed by President Nixon.

City officials in both Neenah and Menasha were notified by the state Department on Aging last week that if the legislation is signed, it would mean communities wouldn't need workable programs — which include minimum standards housing ordinances and other requirements — to get federal funding for housing projects.

MHS Survey

Menasha Housing Authority (MHS) Chairman Gerald Wagner said the new guidelines would mean the MHS would begin conducting a survey in January to determine the number of persons who would be eligible for living in a Menasha housing project.

Without the need for council approval of a minimum standard housing project code and ministered under the Department workable program, Wagner said there is little to stop the city from applying for funding for the project in July and realizing the requirement out of the way for a workable program for public housing, some aldermen may "change their minds" on support of a workable program.

Low-Cost Housing

No aldermen have opposed low-cost housing for the elderly in Menasha, but several have indicated opposition to a minimum standards housing code and a workable program.

Osheim said he didn't expect the new federal guidelines to "have any bearing" on the Menasha redevelopment project, because the project is designed to be entirely privately-financed.

"But I still think it would be a good thing for the community," he said, echoing a letter to the city from the MRA in October asking them to approve a housing code and workable program so the city could effectively deal with its problem of blight and deterioration.

Wagner also said the city should go ahead with workable program certification, because of its requirement for the federal financing of other municipal programs.

Mayor John Klein said "there will probably still be a need for a workable program," but he said this was up to the council to decide.

Snowblowers Again got a workout, along with backs of homeowners who don't have such motorized helpers, with the 3-inch snowfall which blanketed the Twin City area over the weekend.

West Point Nominee

Herberg May Enter Academy

MENASHA — Harold Hedberg Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hedberg Sr., 749 Carver Lane, has been successful in his second attempt to be nominated to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

Rep. William A. Steiger, R-Oshkosh, today announced that Hedberg was one of two principal nominees for the Academy from the Sixth Congressional District.

Home on Christmas leave from the Army, Hedberg explained that it would be early spring before he would know for sure if he would be appointed to the Academy. "I've already passed all the tests," he said, "and all I have to do is take another physical."

Steiger's nomination was turned over to the Department of the Army which conducts the final tests and makes the final appointment.

Hedberg said he is scheduled to take his physical examination Jan. 19-20 at either Fort Dix, N.J., or at West Point.

He completed basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and has been assigned to Ft. Monmouth, N.J. for training in the U.S. Army Signal Corps as a part of the Army Security Agency.

If appointed, he said, he will be assigned to West Point as a Cadet in lieu of his present duty assignment.

He had qualified a year ago for the Academy, but was ranked as the sixth alternate because he was late in applying. "I was really pleased to be listed as a principal nominee this year," he said.

He learned of the nomination about three weeks ago while still at Ft. Leonard Wood. "The company commander called me out of a formation and said 'Hedberg, you're going to West Point. I

Pocket Money From Forestry

OSHKOSH A tidy little sideline from the sale of Christmas trees is in store for landowners who take advantage of reclamation and reforestation programs in Wisconsin.

The programs are sponsored by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and the Agricultural Soil and Conservation Service (ASCS).

Actually, trees planted under the auspices of either agency cannot be harvested in one swoop for Christmas purposes. The harvest of Christmas trees is clearly only a by-product of reforestation and original planting is culled to conservation, but stipulates that the planted acreage cannot be clean-cut during a specified period. One thousand or more seedlings 4-8 inches high are planted on each acre.

ASCS, Malchow said, shares the cost of planting trees in the interests of reforestation and original planting is culled to conservation, but stipulates that the planted acreage cannot be clean-cut during a specified period. One thousand or more seedlings 4-8 inches high are planted on each acre.

Agency provides the seedlings they grow, they spread out and the land owner furnishes the labor to plant them.

Several years later, however, the crop must be thinned to some 700 trees that will eventually be harvested for pulp or other commercial uses.

The trees cut for thinning may be sold for Christmas trees, hence the tidy sideline.

The same could hold true for the state DNR program. According to Norbert Underwood, district forest manager, the programs sponsored by his department are not beamed at growing Christmas trees, although some trees can be sold for decoration.

Landowners may sell evergreens thinned if they are cut. Usually about half of the trees are sold for Christmas trees, the other half are used for pulp or other commercial uses.

Klein Favors Referendum On Downtown

Menasha Mayor Says Vote May be Needed As Gauge of Origin

MENASHA — Mayor John Klein said this morning that it may be a good thing to see what the results would be if a referendum were held on the proposed downtown redevelopment project in Menasha.

"I would have no objection to holding a referendum on it if that were the way the council wanted to go," the mayor said, echoing a statement he made one month ago when a referendum on redevelopment was being discussed by some aldermen.

"If the majority of people would like a referendum, I would be for it," he continued.

Klein made his statement in the wake of a promise made by a Menasha resident Saturday that he and several others would seek a temporary injunction to stop Menasha redevelopment until a referendum was held on it.

Counts said details were being withheld pending ratification by the three AFL-CIO groups affected—the Firemen and Oilers' Union, Marine Cooks and Stewards, and Sailors' Union of the Pacific.

FVTI Plans Pilot Program For Training Teacher Aides

An eight-week pilot program school classes in the community to train persons as teacher aides is scheduled for next summer in the Fox Valley Technical Institute schools at Appleton and Oshkosh.

The program, the first in the state, was announced after a recent advisory committee meeting.

It was developed after a year's study during which surveys were conducted in the 25 public school districts which make up the Vocational Technical and Adult Education District 12 (VTE-12).

Included in the program will be courses in personal and social relations, communication skills, child development, adolescent behavior, social problems and first aid, as well as preparation for employment.

In the latter, students will receive instruction in personal grooming and development and human relations.

Discussion Groups. Special speakers and small group discussions also will be a part of this course and the emphasis will center on the duties of aides.

Students will receive some on-the-job experience in summer following a schedule similar to their child's in school.

In most cases, local schools have conducted their own training programs for aides, but generally this training has been limited in most systems," she said.

Plans for More

The coordinator also told the group that at present, 184 teacher aides are employed in the district, with most school officials planning to add more for the next school year.

Advisory committee members who assisted in developing the program are Supts. Leo Bronkalla, Little Chute, and Virgil Wadleigh, Clintonville, supervisors of elementary education, Ken Moening, Oshkosh, and Sister M. Clair, principal, St. Mary, Stockbridge, and teacher aides, Miss Delores Ecker, Chilton, Miss Charlotte Werner, Little Chute; Romaine Frederickson, Oshkosh, and Mrs. Herbert Simon, Appleton.

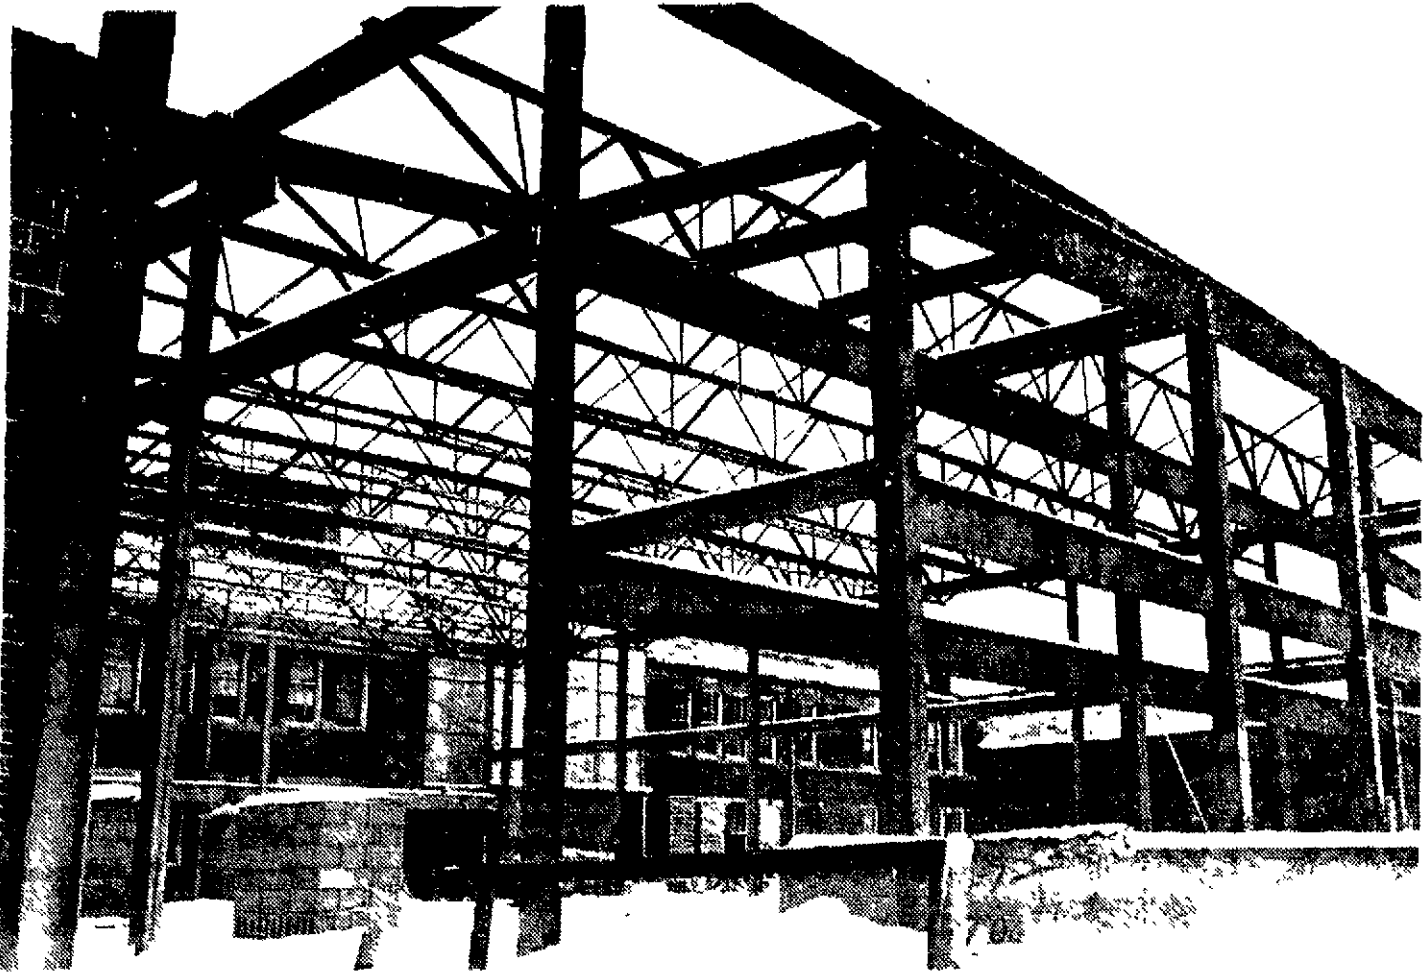

Further information about the program as well as application materials are available from Mrs. Loberg at FVTI-Oshkosh, or the director of admissions, FVTI-Appleton.

Range of Tasks

In defining tasks of the aides, Mrs. Marilyn Loberg, FVTI coordinator, told the advisory committee that these range from supervising playground activities to assisting the professional teacher in instructional activities such as reading improvement and language development.

Some aides are volunteers who come to the school a few hours a week, but most schools are employing salaried professionals similar to the professional teacher, she explained.

Many aides, Mrs. Loberg said, are mothers who have raised their families and now work.

Sturdy Beams to Support new sections of two junior high schools have gone up at both Wilson and Roosevelt. The hoped-for completion date for the additions is the fall of 1970. Construction cost for each school is $1.3 million. The additions will include science rooms and laboratories, music and art areas, gym facilities, industrial arts rooms, instructional material centers, team teaching room, offices and some classrooms. Work, shown here at Wilson, began this fall. (Post-Crescent Photo)

CHILTON Burglars walked off from Andy's Standard Service Station early Sunday morning with a cash register, reportedly containing about $100 on cash.

Station owner Andrew Bruckner told Chilton police the break-in must have occurred between 2 and 6 a.m.

Entry reportedly was gained by breaking a window in the overhead door to the garage portion of the building in order to unlock the door.

The station is located at Main and Madison streets.

Miller Declines To Comment on Plant Closing

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Miller Brewing Co. President Charles W. Miller declined comment Sunday on a report that the firm plans to close its Gettelman plant.

Kenneth G. Mueller, president of Brewery Workers Local 9, said at a union meeting that Miller officials have told the union it would close the 115-year-old factory Feb. 1.

While Mueller declined to elaborate, another union source told the Milwaukee Sentinel that union officials would meet this week with Miller representatives to discuss the plans, which would involve about 100 Gettelman workers.

The source said it hadn't been determined whether or not the Gettelman brand would be dropped or be produced at the Miller plant. Combined production of the two brands totaled 4.8 million barrels in 1968.

Miller employs almost 1,300 members of Local 9, of which about 250 are currently on layoff.

Gettelman, founded in 1854 by German immigrant George Schweickhardt, was sold to Miller in 1961 for more than $1 million.

Smoking Is Down 4.3 Per Cent

Cigarette Tax Shows State Cutting Down

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin residents are cutting down on their smoking, according to a report by State Revenue Secretary James Morgan.

Morgan said that cigarette tax revenues indicated a 4.3 per cent drop in cigarette consumption, compared to a decline of about 2 per cent nationally.

The state's higher cigarette tax may have something to do with the cutback, but Morgan said the decline showed up even before the tax was boosted 10 to 14 cents per pack on Sept. 1.

Morgan's department checked the smoking trend by tracing the portion of the tax — one cent per pack — which goes to support the Outdoor Recreation Act Program (ORAP).

Revenues Increase

Statistics showed that 195.6 million packs of cigarettes were sold during July, August, September and October. That compared with 204.5 million during the same period a year ago, a decrease of almost nine million packs.

Revenues from the cigarette tax, however, have increased.

Through October, the tax had produced $22.2 million in revenues, compared with $17.9 million during the first ten months of 1968. However, the 1969 figure includes about $1.1 million gained from a one-time stock inventory levy.

Morgan also said the effect of the expanded 4 per cent sales tax which also went into effect Sept. 1 was still unclear.

Collections received so far indicated that the tax is producing about $17 million a month — a figure that would fall far short of the $237.7 million expected in the first ten months of the current fiscal year.

"On the basis of these figures, it appears that we're falling way short," said Morgan. "But I don't know what they mean."

He stressed that the picture still was not complete because of varying collections methods. Some collectors file their returns annually, some monthly and some quarterly. The first quarterly return under the new tax isn't due until Jan. 30, and this may not be a representative total on which to base projections since it will include the Christmas buying season.

Women Quote Bible to 'Scrooge' Legislators

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Some Wisconsin legislators will be receiving Christmas greeting cards aimed at making them feel like Scrooges this year.

Two Milwaukee housewives, unhappy about the legislature's cuts in the State welfare budget, designed and produced a card bearing a biblical message which they believe fits some of the lawmakers.

The passage, from the Book of Isaiah, reads:

"Woe to those who decree iniquitous decrees, and the writers who keep writing oppression, to turn aside the need from justice and to rob the poor of my people of their right, that widows may be their spoil and that they may make the fatherless their prey."

Mrs. Carol Seaver came across the passage when she was reading the Bible while confined by an illness earlier this year. She sought assistance from Mrs. Jo Rowen, who makes her own Christmas cards with a silk screen outfit.

The women used a depiction of the Texas state capitol for the cover design, removing one word and the Lone Star from the state seal. They left in the words "the State of," but cut out "Texas" so that card senders could write in a description of their choice, such as neglect, apathy, oppression, and so on.

"I thought we should somehow personally reach the men who run Wisconsin," said Mrs. Seaver. "It has nothing to do with party politics. It's more a matter of basic justice when they turn their backs on the poor."

The women distributed the cards to various individuals and organizations so they could be sent to the legislators, who Mann Funeral Home, Friends return to Madison for a two-week session next month.

Funeral Services Set Tuesday for Max E. Mueller

Max E. Mueller, 73, 517 N. Mason St., former owner and operator of the Mueller Heating and Sheet Metal Co., died unexpectedly Sunday morning after shoveling snow.

Mueller was born March 12, 1895 in Germany, and moved to Appleton at the age of 15. He retired in 1960.

He is survived by his widow, Rose, one son, Jack, and two grandchildren, all of Appleton, and four sisters living in Germany.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 10 a.m. at St. Joseph Catholic Church, with burial in the parish cemetery.

More Wives In Valley Take Jobs

working wives reflects only part of the changing pattern of women's attitude toward economic self-sufficiency. The proportion of single women in jobs has also been going up.

Between 1950 and 1960, it is shown, the number of working women rose 60 per cent, although the number of men employed went up only 16 per cent.

Increases in Valley

The figures show that since 1960, when the last census was taken, the number of married women in the labor force in Outagamie County rose from 24.6 to 32.4 per cent and the total number of women over 14 at work rose from 30.9 to 32.2 per cent.

Calumet County's number of working married women jumped from 34.5 to 45.5 per cent and total working women, from 36.1 to 42.2 per cent. In Waupaca County, the figures are, married women, up from 29.3 to 38.6 per cent, and all women, up from 30.7 to 35.9 per cent.

Shriver Intrigued, But Cautious of Presidential Bid

Y ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON — When Rep. Robert Kennedy landed for the Governor's nomination, he was not alone. Rather, they feel Shriver's national exposure as peace ambassador R. Sargent Shriver, poverty czar in the Kennedy administration, makes it unnecessary to seek statewide office. They recommend he follow the route taken by Richard M. Nixon in 1960: travel in the country in 1970 helping candidates and raising campaign money. In a party financially bankrupt and lacking star quality since Ted Kennedy's fall, that could quickly propel Shriver out of the dark horse category. Shriver is definitely interested in the plan and is inhibited chiefly by his keen awareness of the resentment from the Kennedy apparatus. That secret antagonism has been spelled out for the first time in "The Kennedy Legacy," Theodore C. Sorensen's new book. According to Sorensen, "the predictable political fire returned to the House Democratic cloakroom with words of high praise for Shriver, adding fuel to a Presidential onlet already simmering. Ever since Sen. Edward Kennedy eliminated himself in 1972 Presidential consideration at Chappaquiddick, a up of Democratic Congressmen has been quietly urging Shriver to come home soon to t into national politics.

This sentiment spreading in the House across a remarkably broad base of support is a sign of today's Democratic leadership vacuum. Shriver has formidable assets: no fires and with even a reputation for being a "peace" man. Shriver has formidable assets: no fires and with even a reputation for being a "peace" man. Shriver has formidable assets: no fires and with even a reputation for being a "peace" man.

Broad Appeal
Moreover, in a Democratic Party in the throes of civil war ideological and sectional, Shriver has a broad appeal. The boomlet began last year in the House's liberal Democratic Study Group (DSG), general and in Rep. Morris All of Arizona, who unsuccessfully challenged John Mack for Speaker last January, in particular. But Hays is a flam hawk who abhors the G. Another non-liberal Shriver booster is Rep. Daniel Rostenkowski of Illinois. Mayor Richard J. Daley's chief Washington lieutenant, Shriver might be just the candidate appeal to the black ghetto, to upper South and border es, and to youthful dissidents. Ironically, the only opposition to the Shriver mlet has come from his ring place in politics. The Kennedy family and its political riders still resent Shriver's support of President John Kennedy and his failure to back Kennedy for President in 1960.

State Politics
Shriver's supporters in Congress, communicating with him more by letter, are adamantly moving to any such ventures. From about 1,000 small rental politics. They argued several years ago when the rental industry was spicing with Adlai E. Stevenson III for the Senate nomination from Illinois and now American Rental Association in Chicago. The industry is now crossing the gross annual revenue

Liquor Taxes Proposed for AFDC Program

Finance Committee Suggests Increase to Aid Welfare Budget
MADISON (AP)—The legislature's Joint Finance Committee has recommended that liquor taxes be used to rebuild some of the state's welfare programs, from which lawmakers withheld appropriations in September. The committee, which has kept a tight grip on the state's purse strings all year, also debated other matters Thursday, including a stronger open housing bill and a cultural arts bill, neither of which won the committee's approval. State Rep. Kenneth Merkel's plan for restoring $885,000 to programs of Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) includes a provision to provide funds through a five-cent increase in the state liquor excise tax, currently $2.25 a gallon. Under the proposal, AFDC supplemental benefits to children under age 6 would be provided at a cost of $250,000. The AFDC program for step children would be partially restored to the tune of $285,000, and children in high school would be allowed to continue on AFDC until they reach 19 at a cost of $130,000. In addition, each AFDC recipient could earn $60 a month and keep gifts whose total value does not exceed $600 a year. At present, each recipient may not earn more than $30 without paying a penalty. In other action, the committee declined 6-3 to recommend a bill which would have virtually eliminated exceptions to the state's open housing laws. It is to be considered again when the legislature reconvenes Jan. 5. The Spanish artist Pablo Picasso was an unlikely figure in a debate surrounding a bill to recognize the Wisconsin Arts Foundation and Council as the official state art agency. The measure was tabled 7-5 after Republican State Sen. James Swan, a Walworth County potato farmer, said it would be a "foot in the door for another Picasso." Swan was cheered on in his criticism by Merkel, who contended that if "the arts can't support themselves, there shouldn't be any art."

"You can't create culture through government action," Merkel asserted. The executive director of the council, Oscar Louk of Edgerton, said that while the committee's action might "hurt us in seeking private funds," it would not hamper federal assistance. The committee also recommended for passage bills to pay the cost of transporting all school children in the state living less than two miles from their schools. Provide $173,000 for several Milwaukee inner core projects. Direct the Coordinating Council for Higher Education to determine where and how a program for veterinary medicine should be established in the state, and report back its findings to the 1971 legislature. Provide $229,000 in bonding authority for a state watershed planning board under the Soil and Water Conservation Board.

—Fundamental is the vast expansion in home ownership and the even more spectacular increase in leisure time. The homeowner is a natural renter of "big" equipment while his wife is a natural renter of tables, chairs, linens, etc. The do-it-yourself addict is the No. 1 "patsy" for any equipment with which he or she can build, repair, remodel. There are also clearly defined seasonal aspects to renting: party goods for holidays reach their peak right now, convalescent items reach their high in winter along with floor care equipment, spring is the season for lawn care specialties, camping equipment peaks in summer.

No Handymen
—A second important factor is the disappearance of the handyman. Rental centers with their tools and equipment make comparatively simple what were once impossible jobs for most homemakers. Also contributing mightily is the growing mobility of our population (witness our young friends in Los Angeles). —Still another factor is the inclination of younger people to weigh the value of a product in terms of its usefulness rather than in terms of ownership. Pride in owning a toaster, for instance, is waning, the toaster that the toaster produces is what counts.

This industry has no place to go but up. The projection of the American Rental Association for an annual gross of $3 billion a decade from now could turn out conservative indeed. (Copyright 1969)

Young Hobby Club Construct Tiny Christmas Tree for Dinner Table

BY CAPPY DICK

A tiny Christmas tree the size of a paper drinking cup is easy to make by following today's fun-project directions. The crepe paper two inches wide. Cut it across the grain of the paper; the little lines in figure 1 show how the grain should run. Fold the strip along the center and fringe it as in figure 2. Don't slash closer than one half inch of the fold. Make the fringe quite fine.

Starting at the bottom of the cone, wrap the fringed paper in a spiral to the peak. As you go stretch the paper slightly so it will be tight against the cone. The stretching will also cause the fringe to stick out like the twigs of a real tree. Fasten the strip at the start and at the peak with needle and thread or bits of transparent tape.

Glue a tiny silver star at the top of the tree to complete it (figure 4).

Grim Tale Told in Violence Report

The Post-Crescent 8 11
Monday, December 22, 1969

By JOHN S. LANG
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Millions of them, the streets, the guard, fleeing the streets at nightfall. Some city revolutionaries mobilize vigilante-like patrols.

In 1969 A.D., there were a few scenes of life among Americans. At the dawn of a social renaissance that could free them all of hardships, they stumble into a dark age of refuge in fortresses for the privileged.

Regarded by many as the moral leaders of the Western World, they witness the wane of one of the bloodiest decades of their history.

Commission Warning
Such is the picture of American life drawn in the final report of the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence.

And this is the commission's warning.

Suffer the violence, Americans, or free all citizens from poverty and social privation.

While the commission said some hopeful things about the condition of the nation, its report painted a picture of civil deterioration.

This is a decade which encompassed the assassination of a president, a senator and a Nobel Prize winner, which in its latter half saw ghetto riots involving more than two million persons and resulting in 191 deaths.

Armed Populace

It is a time wherein up to one in every 150 Americans yearly commit violent crimes, a time in which half the nation's 60 million households possess at least one firearm.

"Violence," declared the commission, "is like a fever in the body politic... disfiguring our society... making fortresses of portions of our cities... dividing our people into armed camps... jeopardizing some of our most precious institutions... poisoning the spirit of trust and cooperation that is essential."

The commission, which issued its final report recently was created by President Johnson following the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy to determine the causes of violence in the United States and to recommend methods of prevention.

Eisenhower Panel
Headed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, its members included persons of many political stripes, ranging from conservative Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., to longshoreman-philosopher Eric Hoffer.

In its year and a half of investigation the commission found that, among modern, stable democracies, the United States is the clear leader in rates of homicide, assault, rape, robbery and among the highest in group violence and assassination.

Commission surveys showed half the women and one-fifth of the nation's men fear to walk outdoors at night. Nearly one-third of American householders wish to move because of high rates of crime—and many have done so. Vigilante-like groups have organized.

Closing In
"We are closing ourselves into fortresses when collectively we should be building the great, open, human city societies of which we are capable," the commission reported.

While this is happening, the members decided, for the first time in man's history—this one—is nearing the capability of releasing all citizens from deprivation that until now had been accepted as the inevitable lot of a large part of humankind.

The poor, the black, all other deprived groups, can daily see on their television sets what they are missing and how near their release from misery can be, the panel said, but the institutions have not yet made it possible for an expectant populace to achieve what the economy and technology are becoming capable of providing.

Life in Cells
Lacking effective public action, the commission said life in America in a few more years will be like this:

—"High rise apartments and residential compounds protected by private guards and security devices will be fortified cells for upper middleclass and high income populations living at prime locations in the city."

—"Suburban neighborhoods will be protected mainly by economic homogeneity and by its rape 65 per cent, of aggravated violence from population groups assault 67 per cent and robbery with loaded propensity for 119 per cent.

The pitiful statistic, a city commission noted, children of crime.

Enforcement Programs
In an indictment of law enforcement programs it reported:

"Police lawlessness, degradation, prison conditions and other deficiencies in criminal justice damage the goal of an orderly society by making the law seem unworthy of obedience."

Crimes Ignored
"Policemen who systematically ignore many crimes committed in the ghetto, who handle processes as the usual way of dealing with these pressing demands."

"Given present trends, it is not impossible to imagine an America in which the accepted method of getting a traffic light installed will be to disrupt traffic by blocking the intersection, where unsatisfactory refuse collecting will cause protesting citizens to dump garbage in the street."

Society's failure to afford full protection of the rights of speech and assembly is likely a major reason why protest sometimes results in violence, the commission said.

Although these rights are expressly safeguarded by the federal constitution, the existing remedies to aggrieved persons are not adequate.

"Our political and social institutions and programs have not kept pace."

Traffic Congestion
"We have achieved the phenomenal forward leap to the moon. But we have not managed the flow of traffic in New York."

"We desire peace, but we are now engaged in the fourth war of this century."

Science has shown us how to provide so much food that surplus embarrasses us economically. Yet millions are hungry.

"We boast of our dedication to the concept that all men are created equal yet inequality of opportunity remains our most persistent problem."

Because of frustration, ready availability of guns, tensions among diverse groups, the commission found political violence in the United States today a rising tide of individual and group violence.

"The greatness and durability of most civilizations has been finally determined by how they have responded to these challenges from within. Ours will be no exception."

Emphasizing that many slum residents manage to live peacefully and decently despite the surrounding conditions, the commission noted children of crime.

"Frequently their image of success is not the solid citizen, the responsible hardworking husband and father. Rather the 'successful' man is the cynical hustler who promotes his own interests by exploiting others through dope selling, numbers robbery and other crimes."

But the commission found children of white suburbs and fortresslike highrise apartments also are graphically shown the world of police interrogations, of gangsters beating enemies, of spies, of routine demonstrations of killing and maiming all on television.

And weakening the legitimacy of American institutions in the eyes of slum dwellers have been a number of converging forces.

Respect for Law
"The spectacle of governors defying court orders, police unlawfully beating demonstrators, looters and rioters going unpunished and unpunished, and college youth attacking society's rules and values, makes it easier for disadvantaged young men, whose attachment to law-abiding behavior already is tenuous, to slip into law-breaking behavior."

Even as violence has become a more muscular evil in the nation, the criminal justice process, suffering from an inefficiency of resources and a lack of management, has become less effective as a deterrent to crime.

Police protection and community relations are poorest in the high crime slum neighborhood where they should be best.

There's Even a Partridge on the Christmas Tree

BY CAROL HANSON
Post-Crescent Home Furnishings Editor

Christmas is a wondrous time — a time to renew friendships and to share quiet times with our families.

But more than that, it's a special feeling that permeates us and makes us just a little more tolerant of others, a little more considerate of their feelings and a little more eager to please them.

When we decorate our homes, we are in a small way trying to convey some of these feelings. We might hang a wreath at our door to let others know that we would like them to drop in and to linger for coffee and cookies. Or we might simply put a basket of greens festively trimmed with bright ribbons on an old pine table in the front entry to say welcome to friends as they enter.

Certainly, we'll use again and again all the ideas that have had special meaning for us through the years.

For Miss Sylvia Stack of Appleton, the Christmas tree is the basis of her holiday decorating, just as it is for many of us. Through the years, her family has trimmed a green tree in the old fashioned manner. Always large and full, it is decked with ornaments the Stacks have saved and carefully stored through the years.

Little did Sylvia know, however, when she started out this season to find the particular kind of tree she wanted that it would entail a six-hour search through most of the Christmas tree lots in Appleton and Menasha nor did she know that it would be at a lot close to her home that she would finally solve her dilemma.

Because of the growing popularity of long-needled pines and smaller trees, large spruce and balsams have become almost impossible to find.

But finally, the tree was in its stand in the living room. Then the task of putting the more than 350 lights and 600 ornaments in place began. It took Sylvia and a friend more than 16 hours to complete while another friend kept sandwiches and coffee coming.

The ornaments that bedeck the tree run the gamut from very fragile ones her grandmother had to present-day birds made of felt and sequin trimmed.

Among the more unusual are 24 little people representing countries of the world, Donald Duck with long skinny legs, Pinocchio with his very long nose, a soldier in a full suit of armor and lovely pre-World War II beaded ornaments from Czechoslovakia.

From Ecuador came some shaped from raw dough and from a friend, some of frosting. Both materials — once they have dried — become ceramic-like in texture.

Marching on the tree are several bright felt soldiers accented with gold braid trim — replicas of some that had been purchased for White House trees during the Kennedy and Johnson tenures there. These along with matching drums that also make their way to Washington were produced by an Appleton firm that was co-owned at that time by Sylvia's brother, Maurice, and Mrs. M. A. Schreiner.

There's a great Viking ship, a red bird that was made in Sweden from thin strips of wood, storybook characters and simple glass baubles. Others were handmade by either Sylvia or her brother or were picked up in their travels.

For instance, when Sylvia was in Massachusetts, she found a house that had been converted into an ornament shop. Every room overflowed with holiday trims. Here she purchased an angel sitting on a fluffy white cloud with its foot pushed through a star.

Children, of course, are especially fascinated as they stand close and gaze at the tree. One afternoon shortly after the tree had been completed, two little neighbors, Laurie and Leslie Miller, dropped in for a visit with Sylvia.

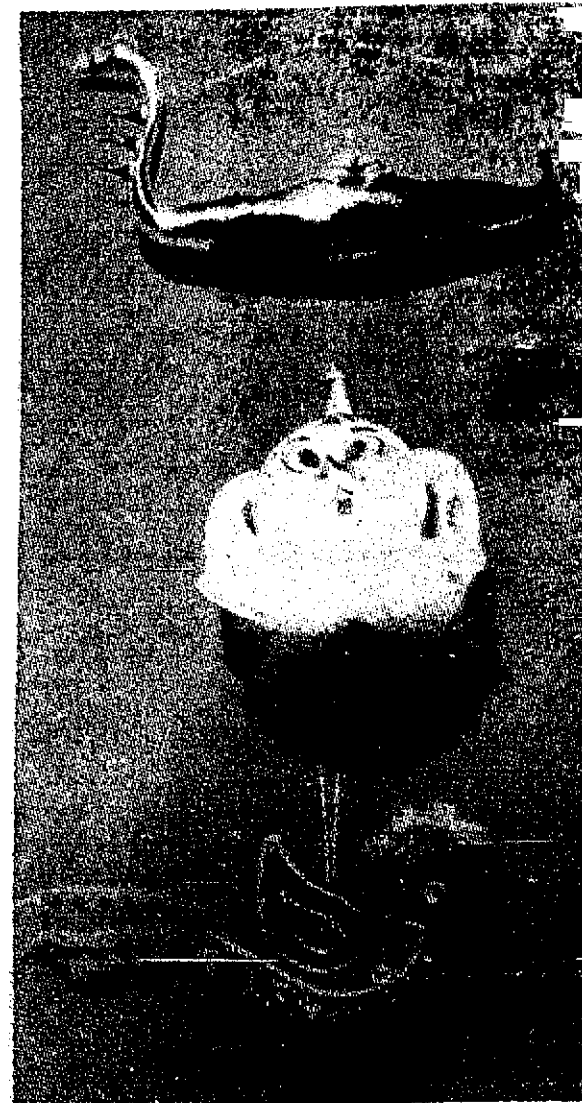

They were drawn immediately to the tree where they stood and looked. Then, they moved closer and, as they did so, they found Pinocchio. Soon, Laurie was telling her little sister the story of the wooden puppet whose nose grew longer with each lie.

This tree, perhaps, brings out the child in each of us who sees it, for after looking for a while even adults begin to point at particular baubles that catch their eye.

Perhaps, too, it is these simple joys that make the holiday season so meaningful.

Laurie Miller tells her little sister, Leslie, about Pinocchio, one of the storybook characters the children saw on the Christmas tree when they visited Miss Sylvia Stack at her home. The girls were wide-eyed as they spotted more and more familiar figures hanging on the tree.

A Viking ship, a cross-eyed droopy eared bunny and a handmade, sequin-trimmed bird are three of the varied baubles on the old fashioned Christmas tree.

Among the ornaments that bedeck the tree at the Stack home are a frolicking merry-go-round pony, a beaded chandelier complete with little beaded red flames, a pirate, a brass-buttoned soldier and a Scot piper. At left, one of the lower branches holds a pearl trimmed sphere handmade by Sylvia's brother, Maurice.

Use Consumer Power to Get Good Service

Don't Just Sit There—Do Something

The plumber was here only wages of the repairman for his repair. He wants to know the 10 minutes to fix the stopped up tube on the job, but also the libraries even have available sink, and his bill was $15. cost of his truck, equipment, auto dealers' service manuals. I've had my car into the travel time and specialized which can provide great help garage three times, and they training which might have for the home mechanic. Still haven't found out what is taken up to four years' making that strange noise."

The heating repairman said he can't get here until a week from next Monday."

According to a survey by the Family Economics Bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. (NNLIS), getting household appliances, homes and automobiles repaired is one of the biggest problems facing the American consumer.

When one of the almost billion appliances or 100 million automobiles breaks down, what can be done? Throw it away and buy a new one? Fix it yourself? Or prepare to fight the battle and pay the price?

Better Business Bureau report that service problems are their major source of complaints.

Delays, Shoddy Work

NNLIS found that getting things repaired today often involves maddening delays, inexperienced workmanship and a startling expense.

The training of qualified personnel apparently cannot keep up with the growing number of appliances and automobiles. In the auto industry, for example, the number of vehicles has increased 100 per cent in the last 20 years, while the number of mechanics increased little more than 20 per cent. Carpenters, plumbers and electricians are just as hard to find.

Prices for good repair work are high, but the consumer must be prepared to accept them. When phoning for a serviceman, the Better Business Bureau recommends asking for a quotation of the company's standard rates. If the rates seem too high, check elsewhere usually get — cynical.

South should not choose a finesse until he sees what seven and ace of spades might be exchanged.

East will return a spade, and South refuses the second trick. South wins the third spade and must now keep West out of the lead. South therefore tries the diamond finesse. The finesse loses, but East is out of spades.

East cannot make a damaging return, and South makes his game with one spade, three hearts, four diamonds and one club.

The hand is an exercise in recognizing which opponent is dangerous and in developing tricks in such a way as to keep the dangerous opponent out of the lead.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one club. you respond one spade, and partner bids one notrump. It is once more up to you, holding: S-A J 9 3 2, H-9 6 2, D-7 2, C-K. 8 4. What do you say?

Answer: Pass. You have only 8 points, and partner's bidding shows a minimum opening bid. Game is out of the question, and you should pass at any conventional part-score contract, such as one notrump.

A Pocket Guide to Bridge is available. Get your copy by sending 50 cents to The Post-Crescent, Box 3318, Grand Central Station, New York, N. Y. 10017.

Industry is beginning to offer help to the "do-it-yourselfer."

Ford considers the Move-a-reck a repair - it - yourself car. Proctor-Sixty is making small appliances that can be repaired at home. Each is built on a module basis. These modules can be snapped apart and easily replaced. Some parts distributors are advertising themselves as "the parts depot for the do-it-yourselfer."

Find Most Reliable

When home repairs fail or are not feasible, look for the most reliable serviceman or contractor you can find. The Family Economics Bureau found there are many of them. Check with the Better Business Bureau if there is doubt about a company. Find out where friends have had good service performed. For a big job get several estimates. Reliable firms will not charge for this.

An authorized appliance or auto service center has to meet rigid industry standards in terms of equipment and manpower training. Independent servicemen also depend on repeat business and build up a reputation for competence.

If the work is still not satisfactory, or the service is poor don't just sit there and boil—do something about it! Speak up! Direct the power of the consumer to the channels.

Whirlpool Corporation, for instance, has set up a 24-hour-a-day national toll-free telephone service to answer complaints. Letters to the industry have really helped in the appliance field. The same needs to be done in the auto industry and in the field of home repairs. Whatever you do, do something.

New Trend in Gifts Harnesses More of Housewives' Energy

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you don't think that women are slated to take over house chores, just wait until you peer under this year's Christmas tree.

It may look like a hardware store festival.

Whereas, at one time the lady of the house might have been overwhelmed when she got a dishwasher with a big red ribbon and holly stuck in it (even though it was a present for the house), gifts have taken a new twist.

Instead of a dreamy machine to cut work chores, people are thinking up gifts to harness more of the housewife's energy.

For example, there is a caddy carrier for women that a hardware man described as being for "her tools." What tools? "Why, her monkey wrench, screwdriver, hammer, stapling gun, things like that," he said cheerfully, adding, "she can even put her power saw in it."

Pretty Scaffolds Coming Soon paint scaffolds will be colored shocking pink, lime and other fashion colors, and you'll button it pushed. Later, SHE knows why.

Another interesting gizmo that couldn't have been designed for men only is a pistol-shaped object that is squeezed gently to cut metal, floor tile, wire screening in one easy action. "Even a child can't pinch or cut himself with this tool or any of its parts," said a company representative.

And you know who will be cutting the new screening to fit the kitchen door and stapling it with her new little gun.

That's how it goes. Heavy duty Vacuum Cleaners are touted as perfect for picking up leaves outdoors, and "the lady of the house EVEN can use it indoors," say the makers. These cleaners with their professional-al-type parts turn out to be great too, for cleaning messy garages and basements, they say—jobs that along with leaf disposal used to belong solely to male members of the family.

She Empties Masher

A new item slated for the kitchen is a trash masher, and it might be nice to own, but, whereas, the kitchen mechanic formerly tossed trash into a pail and forgot about it, she will not be custodian of a machine that will require a bit more attention. It will mash trash—cans, tin cans, bottles, paper and waste paper—to one-quarter of its original size when a Craft kits also are taking on "the lady can do anything" look. One Christmas catalogue asks, "do you love to work with your hands and mind?"

They recommend a woodworking craft kit "and you'll work with the same tools used by 18th century Colonial master craftsmen..." it points out.

A housewife might profit from spotting gift trends. For one thing, she might suggest that gifts for the house are "on the house," extra presents. For another, she might include a do-it-yourself stocking for the man of the house to remind him of his permanent assignment as caretaker and do-it-yourselfer.

Call His Bluff

Here are some suggestions: A couple of yards of weatherstripping (for that back door that is propped with papers to keep out the draft.)

The exact quantity of paint needed to do the job that has been postponed for a year.

A new metal tape measure so that he can't use the "lost measure" excuse when he is asked to do something.

If she must borrow from future house money to give him a power saw, work bench, lathe or whatever it is that he really wants, it may be worth it. Many men do not work around the house because they "haven't got the proper tools." It may be a good year to call that bluff.

After all, you don't want him to borrow YOUR new shiny Christmas tools.

Pill Seems To be Safe Says Doctor

SLOUGH, Eng. — "Far fewer women had experienced side-effects than had heard of them," a British doctor reports after checking 85 women who have used oral contraceptives for at least six years.

"On evidence such as this it would be possible to claim that the greatest side-effect occasioned by the Pill is rumor and adverse publicity."

Dr. A. V. Wiseman, director of the Slough Family Planning Clinic, found that 38 of the women had experienced no side effects at all. Of 18 women who stopped taking oral contraceptives, only six complained of side effects. The others stopped so as to have a child or an operation.

Asked to name the greatest advantage of oral contraception, 41 women praised its effectiveness and 33 its convenience. Others said it had improved their marital relationships and — or general health. One credited the oral contraceptive for "a happy marriage."

Infant Welfare's Charity Ball

It Was a Sparkling Yule Event

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peterson are greeted by Fred Herbolzheimer and William H. Zuehlke as they arrive at North Shore Golf Club to join others for the 1969 Charity Ball. At right, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mills share a turn around the dance floor as the band plays a favorite melody.

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Giant Christmas trees and holiday decorations sparked Saturday evening at North Shore Golf Club where the Infant Welfare Circle of The King's Daughters held its annual Charity Ball. Though it was a clear winter night as members and guests arrived at the club, a gentle snowfall added a beauty of its own to late evening.

At the bright yule event, partygoers twirled on the dance floor as the band played old favorites, paused to greet friends or stopped to listen to Bob French, Neenah, strum his guitar in one of the side rooms of the clubhouse.

New to the ball this year was a photographer who snapped pictures of couples as they posed against the backdrop of a Christmas tree and handed them prints to have as a memento of Charity Ball 1969.

Chairman was Mrs. Fred Herbolzheimer with Mrs. William Zuehlke serving as co-chairman. Proceeds will be used for charity.

The Ailing House Clip Out Rust on Carpets

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: How can you remove a rusty area from a carpet? It does not appear to have soaked down to the backing, but neither does it respond to brushing and rug shampoo. — Tacoma.

A: If it's just a light surface rust, and if the carpet has fairly long fibers, you can do this very neatly with a pair of sharp, small scissors. Merely snip off the rusted fiber tips. You'll be surprised at how unnoticeable the resulting small depression will be. But if you'd have to dig too deeply, it's much better to have a competent professional put in a patch.

Q: The paint on our redwood fence is now peeling very badly. What is the cheapest and easiest way to remove all of it before I repaint? — San Francisco.

A: Cheapest way: Let nature take its course, and you keep scraping off whatever additional paint begins to peel. But that could take a long time. Next, cheapest, and easiest: Prepare

Pair to Mark 50th Wedding Anniversary

NEENAH — Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Koepke, 430 W. North Water St., will observe their 50th wedding anniversary with an Open House from 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday at their home. They were married Dec. 27, 1919 in Janesville.

Mr. Koepke was employed at the Neenah Post Office from 1923 until his retirement several years ago.

The couple has two surviving children: Mrs. Clem Schultz and Norman, both of Neenah. Their son-in-law George Krysiak resides with them. They also have four grandchildren.

A solution of a potent cleaner containing trisodium phosphate (TSP), about 3 pounds to the gallon of hot water. Apply this liberally and let it soften the paint. Then scrape it off with putty knife or paint scraper.

Q: There are dry walls in the house we recently bought. The former owner said they were papered before he bought it. He put three coats of paint over the paper during his ownership and now it is peeling badly. I would like to remove paint and wall paper too, and start from scratch. How should I do this? — Milwaukee.

A: Unless you can find out whether or not the walls were originally sized before the paper was put on, you'd be taking a big chance. If the walls were unsized, the surface of the dry wall might be badly damaged by the paint remover and soaking needed to do the removal. It's safer to sand down and clean the present paint, then repaint it.

Your Problems

Two Women Are Married in Sioux Falls

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently in response to a query you said you knew of no state in the union where two women could be legally married. This is to inform you that two women were married in Sioux Falls, S.D., on Valentine's Day of this year. They are now trying to get a divorce in Minneapolis.

The plaintiff is a 23-year-old woman who claims she was legally married to her 42-year-old girl friend by a Circuit Court judge in Sioux Falls. The judge insists he has no recollection of the marriage and added: "There must have been fraud and misrepresentation in obtaining the license." He said when a couple comes to him with a license, he doesn't ask questions. "I assume one is a boy and the other is a girl," he added. "I thought you'd like to know the latest." — C.R.

Dear C.R.: Someone should inform the judge that these days it's somewhat risky to assume "one is a boy and the other is a girl." It's best to ask

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Since you are part of the problem maybe you can help solve it.

Every morning I stop at the newsstand and buy a paper so I can read your column during coffee break. The boss comes by regularly and "borrows" the paper. I can see him from my desk. He goes straight for your column. Sometimes he smiles. Sometimes he laughs. Slaps his knee and yells, "That's a beauty!"

Twice last week he cut out your column before he returned the paper. I was so mad I got indigestion.

Is there a tactful way to solve this problem? — D.U.B.

Dear D.U.B.: Type the following message on a slip of paper and clip it to the front page. "To Whom It May Concern: Please return intact. The items you want to cut are the ones I buy the paper to read. Thank you. The Owner."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am perched there just. Please help me deliver a message to mil lions of well meaning parents who are damaging their chil dren. I am referring to the way they deal with the child who stutters.

Most children between the ages of three and five stutter somewhat when they first speak. This is normal. Parents often fear the stuttering is going to be permanent, so they inter rupt and say "Stop! Start over. Don't talk so fast!"

If you are a parent who is guilty of this please stop doing it. Simply ignore the child's stuttering. It is a phase he will probably outgrow. If by the time he is six years of age he is still stuttering, take him to a speech therapist. Remember that stuttering is a break in the fluency of speech. Every time you say "uh" or "er" you too are stuttering, only in a more grown up way. So you see, we all stutter at some time in some fashion. — Noela

Dear Noela: Thank you for a letter which should be immensely helpful to a great many readers. Because you wrote, several thousand kids are going to express themselves uninterrupted tonight, and that's as it should be.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems.

Up, Up and Away ... To Bliss in Balloon

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — As the hot air balloon ascended, the bride, wearing a blue and white jumpsuit, shouted "I do." So did the bridegroom.

Then, from the ground 200 feet below, the Rev. Philip Gehl, father of St. John's Lutheran church, pronounced—through a megaphone—the marriage.

Dr. George Elmsstrom met his bride while parachuting 18 months ago. Some 200 guests chased the balloon to a landing spot in a nearby canyon, where the wedding Sunday was celebrated with traditional champagne.

Elmsstrom is an optometrist. His bride is a hotel publicist.

Record-Smashing Horn Pitches Bays Past Cards

Throws for 410 Yards,
5 TDs as Packers Win
Season's Finale, 45-28

BY LEE REMMEL
Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — A scantily-clad Dave Robinson sauntered across the Packer dressing room at dusk Sunday afternoon and paused before Don Horn's locker.

"I want to congratulate you, Don," he said, beaming and extending his hand. "But why did you wait this long? ... You saved the best for last."

Horn, who had just finished starring in a football version of "The Man with the Golden Arm" at frosty Lambeau Field, merely smiled and shrugged his shoulders.

Robinson's appraisal, glowing as it was, was conservative. Horn, repeatedly victimizing rookie cornerbacks Roger Wehrli and Nate Wright with awesome ease, had just crashed the Packer record book by passing for 410 yards as the green and gold closed out 1969 operations with a ringing 45-28 decision of the St. Louis Cardinals before a gathering officially listed as 50,861 customers.

Set in 1951

That performance, based on a glossy 22-for-31 day, enabled the third year field general to eclipse Tobin Rote's all-time single game yardage record of 335, set back in 1951 against the Los Angeles Rams.

Along the way, the 24-year-old Californian tied yet another Packer mark by firing five touchdown passes, two each to flanker Carroll Dale and split end Boyd Dowler. He thus matched an even more venerable record, established by Cecil Isbell in 1942 against the then Cleveland Rams in 1942 with the considerable cooperation of legendary Don Hutson.

Horn, who completed eight consecutive passes during one first half stretch, was aided materially by flawless protection from the Pack's offensive line, which has been little short of superb the last half of the season.

He might have padded his figures further but, with the Packers downing a comfortable 45-21 bulge, Coach Phil Bengtson replaced him with Billy Stevens midway through the final period.

The sophomore quarterback hit 1 of 3 attempts for 12 yards, ballooning the Bays' overall air yardage to 422. The Packers also collected 108 yards rushing to emerge with a grand total of 530, their most prodigious production since Nov. 11, 1962, when they rolled up 628 in a 49-0 annihilation of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Their 45 points also represented the best output since a 48-21 conquest of the New York Giants Oct. 22, 1967 and the 34 in the second quarter were the most they have had in one period since erupting for 35 in the opening period of a 55-7 rout of the Cleveland Browns at Milwaukee Nov. 12, 1967.

Ninth of Decade

All of this was easily sufficient to leave the '60s with an 8-6 mark in the National Football League's Central Division, their ninth winning record of the decade.

The Cardinals also had their Turn to Page 2, Col. 6

Falcons Post 10-3 Upset Over Vikings

Claude Humphrey Gets Game's Only TD After Fumble

BY MIKE BARRON

ATLANTA (AP) — Claude Humphrey, the Atlanta Falcons' big defensive end who likes to talk to opposing players, didn't have time to thank Gary Cuozzo Sunday—he was too busy running for the game-winning touchdown against Minnesota.

The 6-foot-5, 255-pound Humphrey, last season's Defensive Rookie of the Year in the National Football League and a second team All-NFL selection this year, scooped up a fumble by Viking quarterback Cuozzo with 25 seconds left in the first half and ran 24 yards to score, boosting Atlanta to a 10-3 upset victory over the Vikings.

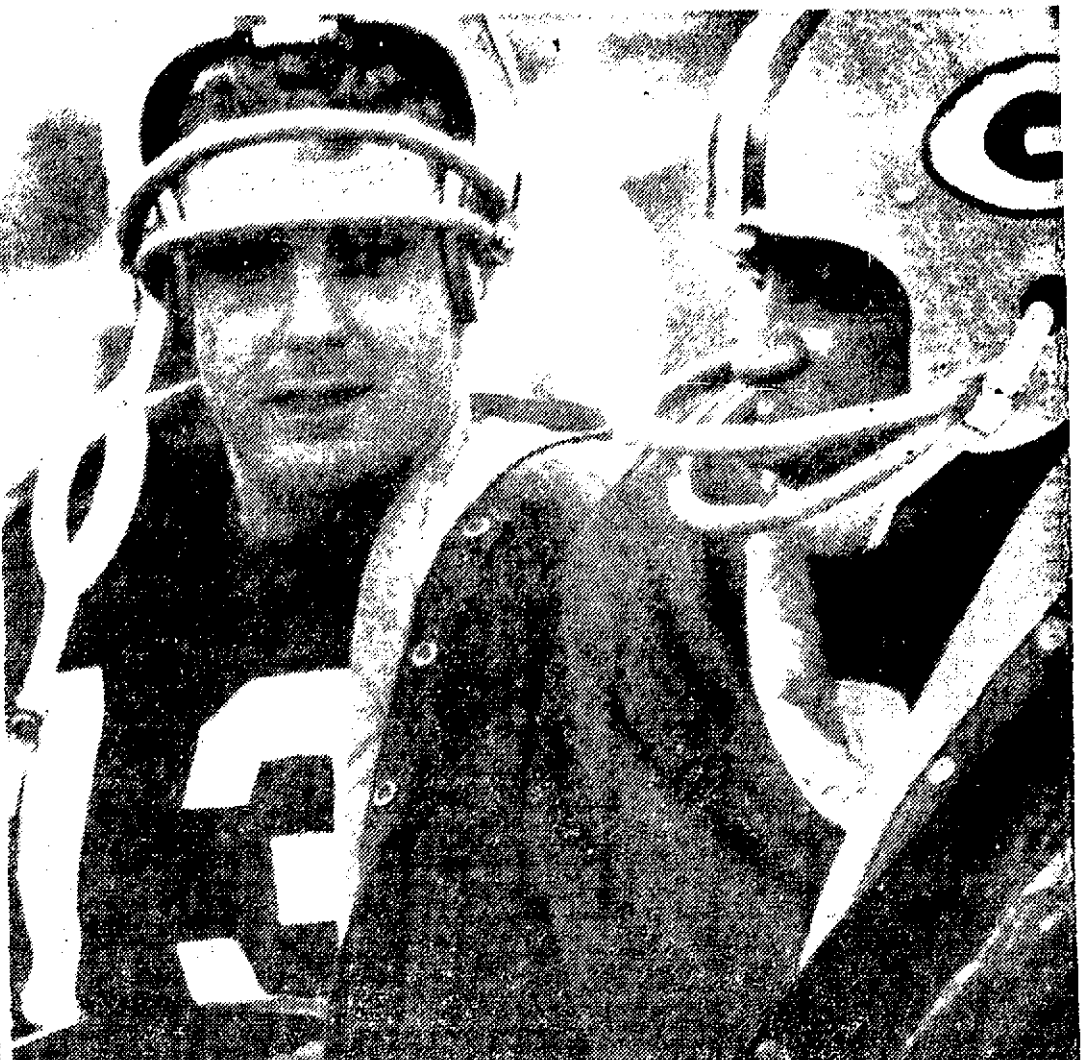

"I wanted to tell him thanks," Humphrey said, "but I didn't have time. All I could think about when I started running was not letting anybody catch me."

Given Cuff Links

As Humphrey dressed after the game, Falcons Vice President and General Manager Frank Wall came up to thank him. Wall peeled off his cuff links and gave them to Humphrey.

"I told you if you scored a touchdown I'd give them to you," Wall said. "Here, you."

Bengtson Hopes Fireworks Will Carry Over to 1970

BY LEN WAGNER

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Phil Bengtson thought Don Horn was "marvelous," the receivers were "great" and he was "pleased" to finish the season with such a rousing victory, 45-28, over the St. Louis Cardinals in Lambeau Field Sunday.

And he sincerely meant all season.

But his inner feelings may have been wrapped up in his capsule review of the entire 1969 Packer campaign in the Nation-cold afternoon, much as he was at Football League which ended in the dazzling and well remembered 1968 season finale in Chicago.

"It was definitely a disappointment. We could have used a couple of the points we made today in other games. That could have turned things around considerably," he declared.

And he added that he hopes the offensive fireworks set off Sunday will carry over to next year.

Pro Bowl Snub

Adderley Says He's Lost His Desire to Play for Green Bay

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Herb Adderley, extremely disappointed over not being selected for the Pro Bowl game, said Sunday night that "I have lost my desire to play for Green Bay."

The All-NFL cornerback telephoned the Green Bay Press-Gazette about three hours after the Packers had whipped the St. Louis Cardinals, 45-28, in Lambeau Field to "get this off my chest before I leave town."

He said "I don't want to come back. I can't come back and perform 100 per cent and then get a slap in the face at the end of the year. This year without a doubt has been my best year. However, playing my heart out didn't get me any acknowledgment from my own coaching staff."

"Phil Bengtson came over to Bob Jeter before the game and whispered to him that he made the Pro Bowl but not to say anything until Tuesday when it would be published. I was standing right there and coach went right past me."

That hurt. It was a blow to my pride.

"After the game, I stood around in my street clothes in the dressing room waiting to see if he would say anything. Phil came over to me and said I had a great year. I said it wasn't great enough. I told him not going to the Pro Bowl was a bitter blow to my pride. He said 'we recommended you but Jeter got it.' I don't think he expected me to believe it and I don't believe it."

Informed of Adderley's statements, Bengtson said, "We did recommend him. I'm not saying we didn't recommend Jeter too, but we did recommend Herb. Of course we can't vote for our own players. We can just recommend some."

"But I know Herb. He's a marvelous guy, a wholesome guy. I know he's disappointed and he did have a better year this year than last. But he's a professional and I know he'll be back next year and he'll try even harder."

Fires Six Touchdown Passes

Lamonica Leads Raiders to 56-7 Win

BY RON RAPAPORT

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Raiders, who struck so early and so often that their coach had to remind them that there was a second half, demolished the Houston Oilers 56-7 Sunday in an American Football League playoff game in which Darryl Lamonica threw six touchdown passes.

"I told them we had come too far to get cocky at half time," said Raider coach John Madden, whose team will meet the Kansas City Chiefs here Jan. 4 for the AFL championship. "Houston demonstrated it could come back and we have plenty of time to celebrate later."

Gave Ball Away The Raiders scored four touchdowns within 4:22 of the first quarter as the Oilers gave the ball away. Two fumbles and a pass interception led directly to Oakland scores as the Raiders took a 28-0 first quarter lead.

"I hope you fellows don't expect this every week," said Madden.

Across the way, Houston coach Wally Lemm could only repeat the obvious: "We blew any chance of winning in the first quarter." Lemm said, "because its tough to play catch - up against Oakland. This is the best I've even seen Lamonica play."

Lamonica threw four scoring passes in the first half and added two more in the third period before leaving the game early in the final frame. Two of his touchdown passes went to Fred Biletnikoff, for 13 and 31 yards; two more were caught by Rod Sherman, for 24 and 23 yards; one went to Charlie Smith for 60 yards and the last was a three-yarder to Billy Cannon.

13 Competitions Lamonica voted the AFL's Most Valuable Player for the second time in three years, finishing the game with 13 completions out of 17 attempts for 276 yards.

Oakland's George Atkinson scored on a 57-yard pass interception in the second quarter and rookie running back Mary Hubbard scored from four yards.

The Raiders took a 35-0 half-time lead and not until they were ahead 49-0 did Houston finally score on an eight-yard pass from Pete Beathard to Alvin Reed.

The Raiders, who won the AFL Western Division with a 12-1-1 regular season mark and had expressed their displeasure at having to play Houston, which was 6-6-2, and second in the East in the unusual AFL playoff system before getting to the final game. And by the time the opening quarter was finished it had become evident to the 53,539 fans at the Oakland Coliseum that the game was little more than a formality.

Shoulder Injury Supposedly hampered by the lack of Warren Wells, who led the league in touchdown pass receptions with 14 but was out with a shoulder injury, the Oakland offense struck almost immediately. By the time eight minutes had elapsed in the first period Oakland led 28-0 and Houston hadn't penetrated beyond its own 34 and line.

Late Score Brings Saints 27-24 Victory

Game Held Up
When Brawl Erupts
In Last Minute

By BEN THOMAS
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Andy Livingston's three-yard touchdown run with 56 seconds left gave New Orleans a 27-24 victory over Pittsburgh in the National Football League Sunday and extended the Steelers' losing streak to 13 games.

A fight erupted on the field after the Saints' winning touchdown. Players from both benches swarmed to midfield. It took almost two minutes before the final seconds of play could resume.

The brawl began when Pittsburgh safety Charles Beatty, a rookie, kicked New Orleans wide receiver Danny Abramowicz.

Abramowicz was tied for the NFL pass catching lead at the start of Sunday's action with the Steelers' Roy Jefferson and Charlie Taylor of the Washington Redskins, each with 65 catches. Abramowicz hauled in eight for 129 yards. Jefferson caught one. Taylor had six.

Rookie quarterback Edd Hargett came off the bench in the second half to ignite two New Orleans drives—the first resulting in a 40-yard field goal by Tom Dempsey, which left New Orleans trailing 24-20, and the second one ending in Livingston's touchdown.

The Steelers took a quick 14-0 lead on a pair of touchdowns runs by Earl Gros of eight and 15 yards.

Gros also scored a third time for the Steelers, crashing across from the eight on a fourth down play in the third quarter.

Hargett wasn't actually at the throttle when Livingston scored the game's winning touchdown.

Tom Van Arsdale May Not Have Knee Operation

CINCINNATI (AP) — Tom Van Arsdale, the second leading scorer for the Cincinnati Bengals, will not undergo surgery for an injured knee until the end of the season—if then.

The National Basketball team disclosed that its physician, Ed Zenni, examined Van Arsdale Saturday and said that he did not feel surgery was now necessary.

Van Arsdale, averaging about 20 points a game, was hurt Dec. 10 in closing minutes of Cincinnati's game against Philadelphia here.

The injury has been diagnosed as a strained ligament but Dr. Robert Kerlan, the renowned orthopedic surgeon of the Los Angeles Lakers, examined Van Arsdale and told him he felt surgery was not necessary.

Wilson Praises Bay Passing

Charley Winner Lauds Horn but Says Card Pass Defense Is Weak

By JIM ZIMA
Post-Crescent News Service
GREEN BAY — Great Packers passing, aided even more by a porous pass defense plus an inopportune fumble equals defeat.

That's the way St. Louis Cardinal Coach Charley Winner summed up his charges 45-28 loss to the Green Bay Packers at Lambeau Field Sunday afternoon.

"We aren't exactly strong on pass defense," Winner confided in his quarters after the game. "I don't mean to take anything away from Horn (Packer quarterback Don) or his receivers, but our pass defense has been weak all year."

Winner said the Packer passing attack, which amassed 422 yards, 410 of that on Horn's record setting performance, was obviously the thing that killed the Cardinals.

"They got off to a quick start. He hit eight in a row early in the game, and that hurt. We just couldn't stop their passing. We gave up too much in the first half, that's all," Winner said.

The fumble which caused Winner to wince occurred in the third period. The Cardinals, had just narrowed the gap to 10 points on John Gilliam's 100-yard opening half kickoff return, and after kicking off, Roger Wehrli intercepted a Don Horn pass and returned it to the Packer 20.

Moore Recovers
On the second play from scrimmage Cardinal signal caller Charley Johnson fumbled on the handoff and the Packers' Rich Moore recovered.

"That touchdown run gave us momentum. Then we intercepted the pass. We were in 10 points down and I figured we would get at least a field goal and then we are only seven behind."

"That would put us in good shape but then we fumbled it, and that took the zip out of us," Winner said. In wistfully looking back to Gilliam's return Winner added, "That was a beautiful run."

Gilliam, in describing his 100-yard canter said, "It was good blocking on the part of our special team. I saw the hole and I ran for daylight. I felt myself slipping one time but kept going. Once I got going I saw Willie Wood so I veered to the right and then to the left. If I would have run straight he would have probably caught me."

Quarterback Charley Johnson, queried about the call in the play early in the second period when the Cards decided to go for a first down on the Packer 45 with fourth and one and then fumbled said, "It was supposed to be a quarterback sneak. We just had a bad exchange."

Weather No Factor

Johnson said the Packers didn't do anything he didn't expect, except "Play a little better than they have been." He said the weather was no factor but that he hadn't expected the loose sod conditions on the field.

Wehrli, in reliving his pass interception in the third quarter and the subsequent 44-yard return said, "Once I saw the ball in the air I thought I could get to it. I think it was underthrown. When I got it I went to the other side and got good blocking. If I was as fast as John Gilliam I could have gone all the way."

Larry Wilson, the Cardinals perennial all-pro safety, played tribute to the Packers' passing and Horn.

"Their passing attack was as good as I have ever seen. Horn had a fine day. Their receivers made real fine cuts and when they caught the ball they ran with it," Wilson said.

Asked about his 88-yard return for a touchdown Wilson confided, "I was coming up to help on the end run. Somebody knocked the ball loose and I was right there and picked it up."

"I just started running. I didn't think about going all the way at first. All I wanted was to make sure the ball got picked up."

Middle linebacker Chip Healy, who was victimized by Dave Hampton on the latter's 5-yard TD scamper in the third period, said, "He outran the containment. I came over from the middle but I couldn't catch him. He is a little faster than I am. Make that a whole lot faster."

Healy was moved into the starting lineup just prior to the start of the game when it was discerned that Jamie Rivers was unable to play. Rivers had suffered an ankle injury in last week's game. "I didn't know until just before the game that I was starting," Healy said.

Bears, Steelers To Flip Coin for First Draft Pick

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chicago Bears and the Pittsburgh Steelers will flip a coin to determine which of the two National Football League clubs get the top draft choice in the annual college draft Jan. 27-28.

The Bears and the Steelers tied for the worst records in both leagues each with 1-13 records, as the NFL closed its regular season Sunday. Detroit beat Chicago 20-3. New Orleans edged Pittsburgh 27-24.

A spokesman for Chicago already has said if the Bears get the first choice they will select Purdue quarterback Mike Phipps, due quarterback Mike Phipps, bounced straight up into the air.

The Steelers haven't indicated their top choice but are known to be very much interested in Oklahoma's Steve Owens. Heisman Trophy winner.

Nobody has said when or where the coin-flipping ceremony will take place.

innings, although obviously not as many. Chief among them was a 100-yard runback of the second half kickoff for a touchdown by the elusive John Gilliam, who doubles as the Redbirds' flanker.

That spectacular momentarily lifted the Cards to within 10-point range, 31-21, and revived their hopes. They were further heartened when Wehrli intercepted a Horn bomb and returned it 44 yards to the Packer 23 one play following the succeeding kickoff. But quarterback Charley Rushing	St. Louis, Roland 9-33; Edwards 7-28; Green Bay, Williams 8-38; Hampton 8-35.

Receiving	St. Louis, Gilliam 6-75; Smith 4-40; Green Bay, Dale 9-115; Dowler 6-102; Anderson 4-74.
Passing	St. Louis, Johnson 17-27-1, 292 yards; Green Bay, Horn 22-31-1, 410; Stevens 1-20-0, 12.

Johnson fumbled on second down and Rich Moore recovered at the Packer 25. Two exchanges later, Horn lofted a 34-yard scoring pitch to Dale, a "lonesome end" beyond the Cardinal secondary, pulled in tight as the Packers faced a third-and-one situation.

Horn later rifled another 10-yard TD strike to Dale early in the fourth quarter to tie Isbell's record.

The former San Diego State sharpshooter launched his assault with a 7-yard toss to Dowler, who had gained a step on the Cards' great safety, Larry Wilson, in the end zone. That one capped a 74-yard, 10-play drive.

Fires to Gilliam

The Cards immediately retaliated, moving 61 yards in seven plays as Johnson fired an 18-yard TD to Gilliam, who eluded Herb Adderley at the Packer one.

St. Louis shortly swept into the lead for the only time when top draft choice for the annual Wilson scooped up a Perry Williams fumble at his own 12-yard-line and wheeled 88 yards to score. Jim Bakken's conversion staking the Cards to a 14-7 edge.

The Packers quickly got that one back on one of the more bizarre maneuvers of this or any season. Wehrli, half step behind Dowler, tipped a Horn pass and, ricocheting off Boyd's left hand and a face mask, bounced straight up into the air.

The Steelers haven't indicated their top choice but are known to be very much interested in Oklahoma's Steve Owens. Heisman Trophy winner.

Nobody has said when or where the coin-flipping ceremony will take place.

Halas Indicates Jim Dooley Will Stay on as Bear Coach

CHICAGO (AP) — Jim Dooley will be back next year as head coach of the Chicago Bears — Halas rapped the press hard for stories that appeared this week which were critical of the Bears hierarchy and coaching. But at no time did he undermine Dooley and he made it plain that he will continue as head coach.

Dooley told the audience, "I put a cross on Halas' shoulders and put 13 nail holes in it one by one."

Rams Lose Third in Row

By BOB MYERS
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams have a serious problem. The winning momentum they hoped to gain in the Super Bowl in New Orleans. After the past two Sundays is missing New Orleans in January.

Because of such villains as the Detroit Lions and the Baltimore Colts.

So the momentum will have to develop Saturday. The problem: the Minnesota Vikings.

The easiest place to get anything except maybe frostbite is not Minnesota in December in an experience with the Minnesota Vikings.

But the Western Conference playoff in the National Football League must go down to the wire between the Vikes and Rams for the pleasure of meeting either Dallas or Cleveland for the NFL championship — though their hands were still frozen from the cold of Detroit.

And as Tom Matte reminded people here, a key man was missing from the Rams defense: the entire second half — Maxie Baughan, defensive captain, out with a knee injury. Baughan is expected back Saturday, however.

How can Los Angeles regain a winning posture?

"By winning football games," said the coach, George Allen.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Statistics of the Baltimore Los Angeles NFL football game.

First downs 23 10
Rushing yardage 95 53
Passing yardage 249 106
Return yardage 17 23
Possessions 19:32 13:24
Fumbles 1 5
Fumbles lost 0 3
Yards penalized 25 41

Lou Michaels kicked two field goals from 22 and 39 yards, missing two from 36 and 31, and Unitas shepherded the Colts on a sustained 75-yard march that ended with Tom Matte bolting the final two for a touchdown.

Two Interceptions
The Rams intercepted Unitas twice, converting one into their only touchdown. Seven plays, 34 yards and an eight yard scoring strike from Roman Gabriel to Jack Snow got the points.

Unitas' passing was 19-33-249 yards; Gabriel's 13-24-110.

Miss Englehorn Defeated By Billy Casper in Match

BUENA PARK, Calif. (AP) — first nine and Miss Englehorn, Billy Casper, 1968 Golfer of the Year, fired a sizzling two-under-par 70 Saturday at Los Coyotes Country Club to defeat women's pro Shirley Englehorn who ended with a 79.

Miss Englehorn had asked for the match in an attempt to prove women golfers are as good as men.

Haven't Played
"I'm glad I won," Casper said. "It would have set golf back 50 years if she had won."

Men and women should compete separately in professional golf," Casper had carded a one-up under par by the end of the play.

She was turned down last October by the PGA as a competitor in next month's Los Angeles Open.

"I just hope it can be changed someday," she said after the PGA decision. "Golf is golf. If I could qualify why not let me play."

Interstate System Moves On

The parallel has become trite perhaps, government intended to acknowledge that but it is nevertheless descriptive and truth-unequal original allocation when in the ful to assert that the United States Interstate mileage recently, Wisconsin was the most ambitious since the road building awarded 102 miles for an Interstate link triumphs of imperial Rome at its mightiest.

The National Highway Users Conference reminds us that 66 per cent of the total of authorized Interstate Highway mileage is now complete and open to traffic, including all that which was originally allocated to Wisconsin except a short segment in Milwaukee.

It is relevant here to recall that Wisconsin is perhaps first, and no less than second, in its progress in construction of the "I" system roads allotted to it. One of the reasons for its leading rank in this regard, we would suggest without disparaging the performance of our own state highway administration, is that Wisconsin was given an unfairly low allocation in the first instance. In fact, the Wisconsin record of performance in getting these roads built is outstanding in the country, as numerous authorities have attested.

But for reasons that it would be idle to speculate about now, Wisconsin was given only 452 miles of the original 41,000 mile system authorized by the Congress, which is inequitably low by whatever measurement is used, tax contributions, geographical expanse, population, or any other.

We may suppose that the national government intended to acknowledge that unequal original allocation when in the full to assert that the United States Interstate mileage recently, Wisconsin was the most ambitious since the road building awarded 102 miles for an Interstate link triumphs of imperial Rome at its mightiest.

Valley, with its terminus on the west side of Green Bay, to serve the populous and industrialized eastern Wisconsin counties and the Fox River Valley.

That the highway administration at Madison intends to move expeditiously again is suggested by the fact that a January hearing has been called for testimony on the merits of sites for a Fox River bridge crossing.

The new 1500 mile authorization is not yet funded, but state officials believe they have assurance that the Congress will vote the appropriations in 1970. If it does so, the state highway division believes it will be able to acquire sufficient right-of-way for a significant beginning of construction in 1972, with a goal of completion in 1976.

If there is an element of doubt in the matter, it lies in the condition of the national economy and the perils of inflation. The first estimate we were given calculated the cost of the eastern Wisconsin Interstate at $95,000,000. Now state officials fear it may cost as much as $150,000,000, assuming that the cost spiral is stabilized. If it is not somehow controlled, we may lose after all this route that Wisconsin should have had in the original national legislation more than a decade ago.

Family Planning Will Work

The growing concern over increases in the world's population, especially among poor people and in underdeveloped nations, is beginning to stimulate cooperation between public and private agencies. An example is the island of Jamaica.

There are two million people who live on Jamaica and the unemployment rate is a whopping 20 per cent. Underemployment is harder to determine but it is also probably quite high. For twenty years the voluntary National Family Planning Association worked at encouraging birth control and the spreading of information on family planning. Three years ago the government gave the matter first priority.

This year $720,000 was allotted to the program which is handled primarily through 135 government-operated clinics. Probably well over 50,000 women have participated but the aim of the government National Family Planning Board is to reach 150,000. Nevertheless, there has been a decrease in births. In 1966 there were 38.9 for each 1,000 people. In 1968 the figure had dropped to 34.2. The aim is 15 to 20 per thousand. The total number of births also dropped from 71,000 in 1966 to 65,400 in 1968.

Doctors in the program say they now have little opposition although in earlier years there were charges that family planning was some sort of a subversive move to kill black people. The dominant Anglican church also held back for some time but its attitude "has changed from one of active antagonism to helpful cooperation," according to one doctor. "We have convinced the church that we are working for the same thing, that we are both trying to create a more wholesome atmosphere in which people can grow and develop and enjoy life." Unlike the Roman Catholic Church, the Anglican has no blanket opposition to artificial means of contraception.

The program has been highly publicized, especially through the use of radio promotion. Some $50,000 has been allotted to radio commercials, billboards and bus advertisements. The emphasis is upon having "the number of children you want when you want them. You'll be able to feed them better, care for them better and educate them better." It seems to be working.

Are We Out of Touch With Europe?

If there was one lesson for Americans to learn from the withdrawal of Greece from the Council of Europe — before it was expelled — it is that we seem to be out of touch with the European democracies.

Although the United States is not a member of the Council of Europe and there was no exerted pressure from this country against expulsion, it was obvious that American officials considered the move a wrong one. Opposition came from two directions. First, was the warning that Greece might also resign from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization — and it has announced such intentions — and leave southern European defenses unguarded. Secondly, American officials argued that the expulsion probably could not be successfully accomplished and this would only bring up more confidence for the colonels who run Greece.

But of the 18 members of the Council, 12 indicated that they would vote for expulsion. Rather than face such humiliation, the Greek government withdrew and further denounced the Treaty of London of 1949 which set up the Council of European democracies and the Convention of Human Rights which Greece is specifically charged with violating through the imprisonment and alleged torture of political prisoners.

It is disturbing that the United States seems so vastly removed from the Council's dedicated if perhaps unrealistic view of the importance of promoting democratic procedures. After all, we give a considerable amount of lip service to the matter of self-determinism, most particularly in our arguments against allowing the North Vietnamese to take over in the south. It can be argued that our concern about Greece leaving NATO is based upon the knowledge of the dangers of Communist advances. But if this is true we should stop our prattling about democracy and liberty. If it is pragmatism we are for, then let us say so.

The United States Senate, at the time of the Greek decision to leave the Council, ignored the recommendation of its Foreign Relations Committee and voted to remove restrictions on our military aid to Greece, imposed when the colonels seized control.

So much for the enthusiastic American backing of democracy and self-determinism.

"On the morning of the 9th inst., a fire broke out in the Public House owned and conducted by Mr. L. Collar in Hortonville.

"It would have proved destructive not only to him but to myself and a number of neighbors had it not been for the time assistance of our citizens.

On the outcry of "Fire!" they assembled with rapidity and subdued the flames before they got under much headway. Less energy and promptness on their part coupled with the devouring element of fire would have done its work.

If We Vietnamize, Will We Let Saigon Really Fight the War?

BY WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY, JR.

I have struggled for a formulation, and it is this. There is insufficient evidence that Washington has thought through the meaning of Vietnamization. It is perhaps unfair to put it in quite that way, so let us settle for saying that there is abundant evidence that Washington has not communicated to the American public the true meaning of Vietnamization.

You need to keep reminding yourself, when you think of Vietnam, that there was never a war like it fought in history. You see whole legions of pilots and bombs and machine guns and helicopters and godknowswhat which are entirely but not necessary, because their sole function is to track down and eliminate supplies which entered into the country in the first place via a couple of bottlenecks visible to every seagull on the coastline of North Vietnam and Cambodia, let alone our super-bombights. Why do we not block these accesses? There is no questioning that that would be the humane thing to do. Blocking those accesses would save not only American lives, not only South Vietnamese lives, but also North Vietnamese lives.

Might Offend Russia
Well, we have become accustomed to the argument that we do not block those great ports because to do so would be to provoke directly the Soviet Union in particular, whose merchant fleet is busy supplying those parts with the materials of war. Provoke her and possibly provoke also China, which though to a lesser extent, also uses the harbor at Haiphong, although most of her help flows down a railroad line which also could be easily enterdicted.

Now it is a question for diplomatic strategists to dispute whether the reasoning that stayed the hand of Lyndon Johnson, and now Nixon, is ultimately sound. But there is no argument at all about the military inanity. The military feels that its job is to erect the Empire State Building, but skip the first floor.

Now: any military authority capable of neutralizing a peashooter would proceed at once to do at least some, and probably all of the following: 1) block the harbor at Haiphong; 2) block the harbor at Sihanoukville; 3) effect an amphibious landing north of Haiphong cutting a swathe across central North Vietnam and dividing the country; 4) march a column of troops west extending (roughly) the Demilitarized Zone, thus cutting off the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

Now the question before the house is: with the assumption by the South Vietnamese of military authority and, progressively, the human brunt of the war (during the week I was there, eighty per cent of the battle casualties were South Vietnamese, 20 per cent U. S.), are we also prepared to rescind the political considerations which have hampered our own movements? It is one thing to say that blocking Haiphong or invading North Vietnam would be interpreted as a threat by the United States to Red China.

Does Saigon Care?

China is as much threatened by South Vietnam as we are threatened by Costa Rica. South Vietnam's enemy, North Vietnam, cares nothing at all about violating the territory of Laos, or of Cambodia, for the purpose of introducing aggression into South Vietnam. So under what reasoning should South Vietnam care about moving into Cambodia and Laos in order to repress that aggression?

How would it look for the Soviet Navy — for all that it is given nowadays — to swaggering about in the Indian Ocean — to command its dreadnoughts to shoot down South Vietnamese gunboats engaged in closing down a harbor which it is entitled to do under international convention when that harbor is being used to supply aggressors against it? Now there would be true escalation, calling for reprisals by the United States, symmetrical or asymmetrical. But that is our problem. It ought not to be the problem of South Vietnam.

True, the South Vietnamese would be using our material; so what. The enemy continues to use material made in the Soviet Union and in Red China. True Vietnamization would set up true equilibrium, but the question now is whether we are so stuck in our fear of escalation that we will seek by reflex action to impose on Vietnam inhibitions which are only questionably defensible as they weigh down the United States but would be unquestionably indefensible as they weigh down South Vietnam. If we pass along our political repressions to South Vietnam, the strategic outcome is clear. Victory for the enemy.

Wisconsin Report

Kellett Commission Faces Difficult Job In Summing Up Work

By JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — It is now apparent that the Kellett commission studying all phases of the mammoth Wisconsin education program under a charge of Gov. Knowles last February won't have a completed report or recommendations by the target date of January, 1970.

The observation is not critical. The governor's mandate was so broad, the educational establishment of the state so huge, the viewpoints on its problems and needs and deficiencies so multitudinous, that it could well require two or three years to produce a study with conclusions in depth that are worthy of the subject.

Indeed, there are those — not all of them inimical to the idea or to the author — who have felt all along that the "task force" idea of Knowles was intended as a kind of political insulator. He came up with the Kellett commission plan at about the time that he was contemplating the huge increases in expenditures requested for higher education, vocational education, special education, local elementary and high school education, not to mention tuition grants and loans, transportation subsidies and the rest.

Tax Impact Realized

It became perfectly obvious that the tax increase impact of the school budgets, even if they were trimmed somewhat, would provoke a crisis in the legislature, which is exactly what happened.

Therefore, according to this line of reasoning, the governor conceived the idea of a no holds barred reappraisal of the whole of the educational giant "to insure that the tremendous investment of Wisconsin tax dollars produces the maximum educational result," as Mr. Knowles put it at the time.

"At the present time, 65 cents out of every Wisconsin tax dollar goes into education," he continued, as he spoke directly to the legislature, but also to the people of Wisconsin beyond. "We've got to see that we are getting 65 cents worth of educational value for each of those tax dollars."

Big Challenge Presented
It was an enormous challenge, indeed, to the marvelously energetic William Kellett whose energy and spirit and confidence belie his years.

Kellett reportedly has corralled something over 500 persons to work on various phases of this comprehensive evaluation. Necessarily, they have been divided into numerous special committees and subcommittees. Necessarily also, therefore, it has been difficult for the press and the public to keep informed on the numerous group discussions and inclinations, to the extent that any semblance of consensus has been shown in any of the sectional groupings.

What has become evident is that the complete reassessment of this giant among the public enterprises of Wisconsin has turned out to be a more demanding and difficult job than ever the ever-optimistic Bill Kellett had believed when he took the captaincy of the study team.

What is also becoming evident is that some of the recommendations that some of the subgroups appear inclined to endorse will be highly controversial and difficult in terms of public and political acceptance. To the extent that they cross the will of the educational establishment itself, they will probably be doomed at the time of their publication, for there is no more important, attentive and resourceful pressure group in the state than the educational interest.

Some Gain Inevitable

Yet Chairman Kellett is not likely to be easily discouraged, although it may be ventured that his job is a far more demanding one than he knew when he accepted it. There were times when it appeared that his state administration reorganization bill of two years ago would be consigned to the ash can. But he salvaged its essence.

The risk he faces now is that a report and recommendations delayed will be offered to a succeeding legislature and administration — which may not feel bound by a plan it did not commission. But even in that event, all won't be lost. Anything that informs the public more clearly about its government is a gain.

Capsule Reviews of Some Lousy Books

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

If there were a Pure Food and Drug Act for books, the jackets would be properly labeled so that each prospective buyer would know thoroughly permeated with the sickness it purports to diagnose.

"The Seven Minutes" by Irving Wallace — Although I was sent a copy with the compliments of the author, because an extract from one of my columns is used by the defense attorney in the trial scene, I wish the author were on the other side of the censorship controversy, because (as they say) with friends like that, who needs an enemy?

"The Kingdom and the Power" by Gay Talese — An honest and sober product, not adulterated, but suffering from the sin of inflation in telling us far more about the New York Times than anyone would care to know, when it should be a 50-page pamphlet selling for $1.

"The Kennedy Legacy" by Theodore Sorensen — A phony attempt to exploit the Kennedy charisma, by a political hanger-on and speech-writer who finally impales himself on the ax he is grinding.

"My Life With Martin Luther King, Jr." by Coretta Scott King — a pathetic piece of hagiolatry by the widow of the Negro leader, in which the dead man is sanctified before he is even brought to life; at a time when some stunningly incisive books on Malcolm X and Eldridge Cleaver are on the market, this succeeds in telling us nothing about the private character of the public man.

"The Three Daughters of Madame Liang" by Pearl Buck — another insufferable story by the worst writer ever to have won the Nobel Prize.

Nobody would be prohibited from reading any book he wanted to, but the contents and ingredients would be plainly listed on the package. Hundreds of books come across my desk every season, and here are a recent handful I would disrecommend to the unwary book shopper: —

"Trespas" by Fletcher Knebel — a hokey novel, poorly written and ill-thought-out, for people who would like to think they are thinking when they are only messaging their own egos.

"Present at the Creation" by Dean Acheson — a pompous and self-important book of memoirs by a soi-disant statesman more interested in vindicating his part in public affairs than in understanding the deeper roots of our massive failure in self-government.

"The Love Machine" by Jacqueline Susann — not a book at all, but a piece of plastic merchandise running back Larry Todd with a 40-yard pass at the Houston 11 and two plays later he threw to Biletnikoff over the middle in the end zone. The Raiders flanker, who had caught 12 touchdown passes during the regular season, made a brilliant grab, taking the ball in the crook of his right arm and pulling it in.

On the first play after the kickoff, Beathard threw toward Reed but Atkinson intercepted on the Raider 43. He raced down the right sideline, cut across the field as Oiler defenders were cutdown and scored on the left side, holding the ball aloft in jubilation.

Getting Started

But the Raiders were just getting started.

On the first play after the kickoff they got the ball back when Hoyle Granger fumbled and Carleton Oats recovered at the Houston 24. Lamonica hit Sherman over the middle on he first play for a 24-yard score again.

On the next series, Beathard umbled and Tom Keating recovered for Oakland at the House on 31.

It took Lamonica just one play to find an open receiver as Biletnikoff, in the left corner of the end zone, made another line catch.

In the second period, Lamonica hit Smith with a pass on the left side-line and the Raider allback carried it 60 yards for the score. The 23-yard scoring pass to Sherman and the three-yard scoring aerial to Cannon gave the Raiders a 49-0 lead at the end of the third quarter.

No Indication Starr to Quit, Declares Phil

Post-Crescent News Service
GREEN BAY — Packers Coach General Manager Phil Bengtson said that he wouldn't be surprised if offensive tackle Forrest Gregg and defensive tackle Henry Jordan retired along with Willie Davis.

But he emphasized that "I'm not saying they won't play."

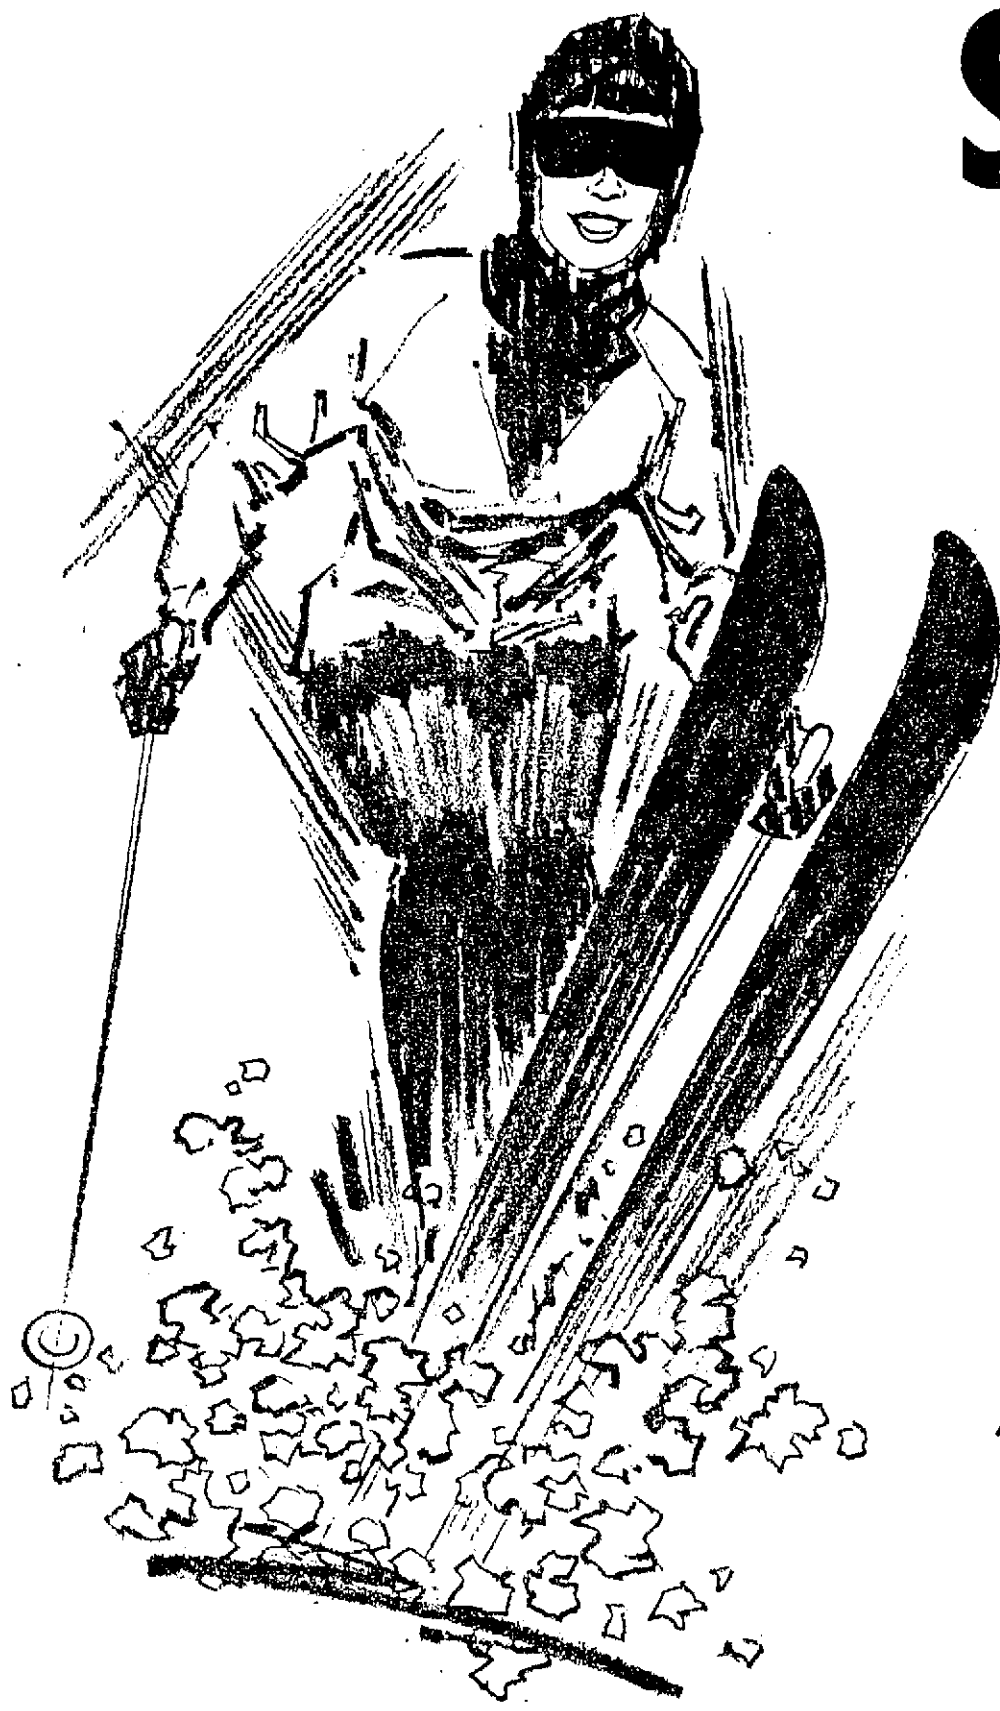

He also insisted there has been no indication that Bart Starr would retire.

On another future subject, the coach said he feels that the Packers have a good successor to Davis in Fred Carr but that would mean they need another linebacker, though Carr could play either position.

In any event, it adds up to either a defensive end or a linebacker as the Packers' No. 1 draft choice, "which ever position has the best man available when our turn comes up," he said.

As to Jim Grabowski's recent remark about expecting to be traded before next year, Bengtson said he felt it was "just a spontaneous remark...not an unusual one for a guy who is showing behind two other fellows."

Worst Finish Ever (1-13) Leaves Bear Players Pondering Futures

By JOE MOOSHLIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Having all expressed doubts about their conclusion the worst season in situations their history, the Chicago Bears' "I have no idea how I fit in weren't sounding the old cliché their plans for next year." said "Wait 'til next year." But most of them were wondering about "I'm not even thinking about next year," said Seals. "Of course I want to play. The question in my case is do they want me back."

The Bears tumbled to their 13th defeat of the season against one victory when they meekly bowed before the Detroit Lions, 20-3, Sunday.

So subdued were the Bears said Cornish that there wasn't even a hint of you know. That's the way it the blowup started by quarter backs back Vigil Carter, who a week earlier lambasted management and Ed O'Bradovich and guard and Coach Jim Dooley after he had been benched at halftime for the 1970 season.

Following the Detroit game, the Dooley refused to comment on the season or what the Bears were expected to do in 1970. Some of the players felt they would be traded while others expressed a desire to return to the team and help erase the nightmarish memories of 1969.

Feels Disliked
Receiver Dick Gordon long one of the malcontents, said "I think they're going to trade me. They seem not to like me and I don't intend to change my dress or hair style to suit them."

Quarterback Jack Concannon sidelined after the first four losses and given the starting assignment in the finale Sunday, said "I don't expect to be here."

Others who figure they'll be traded include defensive end Marty Amsler and tight end Austin Denney. "The only guys who are safe are Gale Sayers and Dick Butkus," said Denney.

Sayers, coming back from a knee operation, gained 60 yards Sunday and finished the season with 1,032, the second time in his five-year career he has gone over the 1,000-yard mark.

"There's nothing to feel good about," said Sayers to a question that he probably clinched another National Football League rushing crown.

More Doubts
"I'm satisfied I proved that I could come back," continued Sayers. "Some people thought I couldn't come back and a lot of 'em still think it."

Coordinated Effort Carroll Dale Credits Great Timing by Horn For Passing Success

BY LEE REMMEL
Post-Crescent News Service
GREEN BAY — Carroll Dale, a consummate craftsman, had just had another memorable afternoon.

But, a dedicated team player, he was taking no bows as well he might have in the wake of a glittering 9 catch performance which produced 195 yards and two touchdowns in the Packers' 45-28 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals at Lambeau Field.

"It's a coordinated effort as I've always said," Dale noted. "Don Horn had great timing on his wide passes today. Those two long fly passes he threw to me also were thrown well."

"The only thing we had trouble on was the zigzags and that was because of the way the wind was today, and the fact that Don was rushed couple times."

"They used some zone defenses and Don read the keys and threw the ball well. It was a great team effort and the offense needed it."

Right on Numbers

Resuming his analysis of Horn's passes which amassed 410 yards to establish a Packer record, Dale said, "Most of those balls were boom — right on the numbers. So the timing obviously was good."

Carroll, whose two TD catches brought his season total to six, explained, "I caught all four passes on Wehrli in the first half. We flopped the other way in the second half and I caught the other five on the other cornerback Nate Wright."

"Play action was the secret of our success on the first touchdown. Don made a good fake and I also was taking a block on the safety. The only guy back there was Larry Wilson. Don threw it a little away from him. I didn't know if I was going to be able to get the ball or not for second, but I managed to catch it over my head."

Those nine receptions linked Dale's season total to 45, the highest aggregate of his 10 year pro career.

Taking note of this accomplishment, Carroll observed, "If you figure numbers it's my best year. There's no other way you can judge receivers I guess. But the only important thing is winning — that's the real enjoyable thing. And we've got the stuff here to do it."

Boyd Dowler, also the recipient of two TD passes, described his second one, a circus type maneuver, with some relish.

"Wehrli tipped the ball a little," he said. "It hit the edge of my hand and bounced off my face mask, then, straight up in the air. I might have tipped it again on the way down before I caught it."

"He touched it enough originally to throw it off. Otherwise I would have caught it clear."

"The first touchdown was just a play pass, one we've been using forever. The only difference was that I was in a little tighter. Wilson was coming over toward me and I ducked inside him. Horn waited on it. Fortunately."

Dale Hampton, whose five yard TD excursion in the second quarter provided the Pack with a permanent 21-14 lead, explained, "That was the same play as the long one (53 yards) I had against the Bears last week."

"It was outside tackle and Travis Williams threw a helluva block — it was beautiful. All I had to do after that was outrun the linebacker. Chip Healy."

The Road Runner, target of a 12-yard scoring pass from Horn a little later in the period, reported, "It was a circle pattern over the center. The middle linebacker went to the weak side and left me one-on-one with the strong linebacker. Donny just laid it in there. He was cool, calm and collected out there today — he's a ball player."

Fellow fullback Perry Williams was still shuddering ever so lightly over the fumble that Wilson had converted into an 88-yard touchdown in the first quarter.

I had the ball in my left hand," he said, "and I was fighting as I went down. I thought he hit it with his arm or helmet and knocked it out."

Rangers Feast On West Clubs

3-1 Win Over Seals Hikes New Yorkers Into 4-Point Lead

BY HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Rangers today began their sixth week on top of the National Hockey League's East Division and if Boston and Montreal wait around for the West Division to do something to about that situation they could wind up waiting forever.

The Rangers continued their seeming invincibility against their expansionist cousins from the West Sunday night, knocking off Oakland 3-1 and padding their lead to four points when Montreal trimmed Boston 5-2.

In other NHL games Sunday, Philadelphia blanked Pittsburgh 4-0 and Chicago stopped St. Louis 4-0.

Then victory over the Seals ran the Rangers' record against West teams this season to 10 Mikita, Pit Martin and Chico victories and four ties in 14 Mak before Ernie Wakely took stats. That's 21 of a possible 28 over and surrendered Jim Pap-points and provides New York pin's wrap-up goal with a major part of its first place cushion. Against their own division, the Rangers are a more down to earth 9-6-7 for 21 of 25 potential points.

Meanwhile, the Canadians knocked off the Bruins with Henri Richard's 29th career goal snapping the mid-tuggering the victory.

Stay Perfect

Yvan Cournoyer set up two goals 19 seconds apart in the third period to clinch the victory and keep the Canadians unbeaten in four games this season against the Bruins.

Bobby Orr, the NHL's leading scorer, hit his 9th goal of the season for Boston. He picked up West Division to do something to about that situation they could wind up waiting forever.

The Blues were the victims of their expansionist cousins from the West Sunday night, knocking off Oakland 3-1 and padding their lead to four points when Montreal trimmed Boston 5-2.

Brodie Passes 49ers to Win Over Eagles

San Francisco Overcomes Deficit For 14-13 Victory

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Quarterback John Brodie took over in the second half and passed the San Francisco 49ers to a 14-13 comeback victory over the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday in a season ending National Football League game.

The victory gave the 49ers a 4-2 record and left the Eagles at 1-9.

Brodie disabled two weeks with a knee injury replaced ineffective Steve Spurrier with a little over eight minutes left in the third period and Philadelphia leading 13-9. He moved the 49ers 71 yards in 12 plays with Doug Cunningham scoring from the one.

With 3:12 remaining in the fourth period, Brodie threw for a 22 yard touchdown to tight end Bob Windsor who caught on the 12 and carried several tacklers over the line.

65 Yard Pass

The touchdown followed by a few seconds a 65-yard scoring pass from Brodie to rookie Jim Thomas which was nullified by a motion penalty.

With two minutes remaining George Mira threw a desperation 35-yard pass to Leroy Keyes on the 49ers 20.

San Francisco held on the 12 and San Baker was wide to the right with a 19 yard field goal attempt with 59 seconds remaining.

Fine running by Cyril Pinder and alert play by safety Joe Scarpati helped the Eagles to their two scores in the first half. Scarpati's pass interception stopped a San Francisco drive at midfield and Pinder's 29-yard burst set up a 10 yard scoring throw from Mira the former 49er to Harold Jackson.

In the second quarter, Pinder scored from the five two plays after Scarpati intercepted a Spurrier pass at the eight-yard line.

Scarpati also grabbed a loose snap from center on the Eagles' 22 yard touchdown to tight

Meet Cancelled For Third Time

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Journal said Saturday its annual indoor track meet, graded two years ago with a special sanction won't be held in March as planned because of a conflict of dates.

The newspaper said plans are being made to hold the Journal Games in 1971. The affair has been cancelled three times in its 17 year history.

Two years ago, it was sanctioned as the national indoor championships of the U.S. Track and Field Federation.

The Journal said the March date was interrupted by the use of the Milwaukee Arena by the Milwaukee Bucks of the National Basketball Association, and by conflict with other meets.

Dates usually are arranged in cooperation with the Big Ten and the NCAA.

Ex-Appleton Policeman Found Slain

Appears to be Victim of Robbery
At Winnebago County Lodge

A former Appleton police detective is dead of gunshot wounds and about $260 is missing from the safe of the Embassy Motor Lodge on Winnebago County Trunk BB where he worked.

Winnebago County detectives this morning had pieced little der in more than six years. In June, 1963, a service station attendant was stabbed to death at the intersection of U.S. 41 and U.S. 45 west of Oshkosh.

Frye was born in Pembine but lived 10 years in South Dakota before coming to Appleton with his parents in 1922.

He joined the police force in June, 1937, climaxing what he termed an eight-year ambition. In February, 1947 he was promoted to detective and in July, 1958, to detective sergeant.

Association Member
Frye had been a member of the Policeman's Protective Association.

He is survived by the widow, two daughters, one brother, two sisters and 10 grandchildren.

Funeral services will begin at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at the First United Methodist Church, with burial in Highland Memorial Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Wichmann Funeral Home from 3 until 9 p.m. Tuesday. A memorial fund has been established.

Frank Frye

more together in the apparent holdup of the motel and murder of Frank Frye, 63, 519 Douglas St., night clerk at the motel.

Detective Lt. Wilbur Fuller said today Frye died of shotgun wounds at "extremely close range." He refused to comment on whether his department had suspects in the murder, but said no one had been taken into custody.

Fuller asked "anyone having any information related to the killing, no matter how irrelevant it may seem" to contact Winnebago County detectives immediately.

Frye's bleeding body was found lying in the snow along the south edge of County Trunk MM about a mile and half south of Zittau shortly after 6 a.m. Sunday by a passing motorist John A. Friedrich, route 1, Fremont.

He told Winnebago County sheriff's detectives that he examined the body, thinking it might have been a dead deer. He said the body appeared to have been placed along the road, resting upon its back with hands folded.

Noticed About 5:50 a.m.

Robert Nepp, Oconto Falls, manager of the motel, said Frye checked his last guest in about 3 a.m. Sunday. He said he noticed Frye and the money were missing at 5:50 a.m. and reported it to the sheriff's department.

Nepp said there were no signs of violence at the motel. He said it appeared that Frye had walked from the building. More than $300 had been kept in the motel, according to Nepp, but the thief took only part of the money. Frye left the motel without his coat.

County Coroner Art C. Miller said it appeared Frye may have been shot in the vehicle in which he traveled to the point near Zittau where his body was found.

Evidence at Laboratory

County detectives said this morning that they were preparing samples of evidence to be sent to the State Crime Laboratory in Madison today. Snow samples taken from the scene where the body was found were the only identified form of evidence.

All identification had been removed when Frye's body was found. Only a pack of cigarettes was found in his pockets. The body was taken to Mercy Medical Center in Oshkosh, where an autopsy performed and Appleton Police made identification.

Miller said death resulted from massive rupturing of the abdominal aorta, caused by the shotgun blast.

Frye was married and the father of two married daughters living in Appleton. He joined the Appleton Police Department in 1937 and retired with the rank of detective sergeant in 1959. He had been employed at the Embassy for about a year.

First Murder

Miller said Frye's death was Winnebago County's first murder in more than six years.

Flight to Hanoi

Billionaire Attempting to Get Christmas Gifts to POWs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Texas billionaire left by chartered jet today on the second leg of a trip he hopes will end with the delivery of 180,000 pounds of Christmas presents to 1,400 Americans held by North Vietnam.

"Allowing private American citizens to bring Christmas directly to these men would be a major step toward improving relations between our people," H. Ross Perot said before the plane—with "Peace on Earth" painted on it—left Dallas Sunday.

Most of the cargo—bedding, clothes, canned food, medicine and personal packages from prisoners' families—was loaded aboard the Boeing 707 during a stop in Los Angeles before it took off for Honolulu.

A second plane, named "Goodwill Toward Men," waited in Dallas for word to proceed.

Perot told newsmen he planned to arrive in Bangkok Tuesday and take another plane to Hanoi to try to persuade officials to allow the cargo planes to enter.

"That will give us most of the 24th to unload and bring Christmas to those guys on Christmas Day," Perot said.

"Of course, we could have Christmas in January."

He said Hanoi had discouraged the trip in a cabled message, advising Perot to send packages through normal postal channels via Moscow.

Computer Company
Perot, 39, who owns a Dallas computer company, organized a group called United We Stand, which is sponsoring the flight. He said he received large donations to help him pay the cost, about $600,000.

With Perot were about 30 newsmen and project workers including Red Cross doctors and a male nurse.

Perot said that since he announced his plan a week ago he hasn't sought advice from U.S. officials. If he did, he said, "the odds that this trip could succeed would go to zero."

The idea for the flight came as "a by-product of meeting a 4½-year-old boy who has never met his father," Perot said. He said the trip was "in the best interest of the Vietnamese... simply a humanitarian act on the part of private individuals."

What if Hanoi doesn't permit the planes to land?
"We are still confident that once the Vietnamese fully understand the purpose of this mission and the desirable effects on their country they will allow it."

He said Red Cross help would be available in North Vietnam to move packages to prisoners if the government allows the planes to land.

"We have several people over there now," Perot said. "They have made contact with the Vietnamese." He didn't elaborate.

The resolution continues spending authority through Jan. 30.

Scott Raps Hike In Health Funds Congress Racing Toward Recess

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott has reinforced President Nixon's threat to veto a budget-boosting appropriation for education and health spending, despite compromise reductions drafted as Congress pressed toward Christmas recess.

The vacation timetable was vague after a stormy Saturday session, but congressional leaders hoped to clear the docket and quit well before Christmas Eve.

Today's major item: The massive tax reform bill, with its provision for a gradual increase from $600 to $750 in the personal income tax exemption.

Senate Republicans and Democrats already had staged a political custody dispute over the bill. The taxpaying voters, said Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., can thank Democrats for the reductions offered by the measure.

"They cannot thank the Republican leadership which is attempting to steal away from the lowly senior senator from Tennessee credit which he does not claim," Gore told the Senate over the weekend.

Another key to a recess up before Congress today was a $267 million catch-all appropriation bill. This became the vehicle for a crucial resolution to keep unfunded government agencies in funds until Congress takes its vacation and returns to act on their appropriations.

As matters stand, that is likely to be the situation for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the Department of Labor, and the Agency for International Development.

The resolution continues spending authority through Jan. 30.

But another factor, the so-called Philadelphia plan for obtaining more construction jobs, opportunities for black workers, had made the future of the supplemental appropriations bill uncertain.

The Senate had attached a rider to the supplemental measure prohibiting the plan, which establishes quotas for blacks among them, would just as soon send the bill to Nixon and let him veto the money—seeing in that a political campaign issue aid to Korea.

The Senate response: 39-29 approval of Mansfield's motion to table and thus kill the compromise appropriation bill.

The Senate then assigned a panel of conferees to hold new sessions with House negotiators, and return with an appropriation bill shorn of the Formosan and Korean items, and held within the $1.6 billion overall aid Committee, in a separate bill ceiling earlier set by Congress.

A foreign aid dispute between Senate and House flared Saturday night, dooming that appropriation until after the holidays. The Senate rejected a $1.8 billion foreign aid appropriation, primarily because of House insistence on a $54.5 million outlay to buy jet fighter planes for Nationalist China.

Skids Off Runway

South Vietnamese Airliner Crashes

NHA TRANG, Vietnam (AP) — A South Vietnamese airliner skidded off the end of the Nha Trang Air Base runway today.

Two other soldiers in the Jeep escaped by leaping out. The vehicle was smashed over and turned into a charred wreck by the fire that followed.

The plane carried 63 passengers and a crew of seven, according to the steward. He said all of the crew members survived although the pilot was seriously injured, first by a mysterious explosion that occurred aboard the plane and possibly again in the crash.

He said the explosion apparently occurred in one of the left-side engines as the aircraft, bound from Saigon to Da Nang via Nha Trang, was flying near Cam Ranh Bay, about 28 miles south of Nha Trang.

Police at the scene said of the 30 known dead, 21 had been on the ground and nine were aboard the aircraft. Twelve of the dead were believed to be schoolchildren.

No Americans
A passenger list drawn up in Nha Trang indicated that there were no Americans aboard, although Air Vietnam officials in Saigon had said earlier there possibly were three. The list showed two or three Indians, the embattled measure until all the rest were Vietnamese.

Twenty persons were injured. Some House Democrats, including Speaker John W. McCormack, who were in a Jeep that was hit

Nixon Plans Speech Soon About Space

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will announce soon his decision on what the nation's space goals should be in the decade ahead and a space agency source said "we are prepared to be pleased."

It had been reported the President would address the nation Tuesday, but the White House said today the message is "imminent" but not that imminent. Julian Sheer, assistant administrator of the space agency, said the President's statement probably would come within a week.

Nixon has had, since mid-September, a report by a special task group headed by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew detailing three comprehensive alternatives. Two of these would put a man on Mars in the 1980s. The third leaves the Mars expedition open.

"There are still some answers to be worked out," a space agency spokesman said, "but we think it will be a very positive statement. We are very encouraged with the thought process at the White House and we are prepared to be pleased."

Fate of Husbands Unknown

Wives of POWs Wait in Lonely Anguish

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — Silent anguish is the common bond shared by 27 women here. Their men are either prisoners of war, missing in action—or dead. Many don't know which.

They have stayed on in this Navy town, where the Atlantic Ocean laps the shore and training jets zoom overhead, comforting and sustaining each other. They say their husbands are "the forgotten men" of the Vietnam war.

The 27 wives are only a fraction of the nearly 1,400 women in this country with a similar fate. Up until recently they have not spoken up, they've been afraid to.

Afraid of what enemy forces in Vietnam would do to their husbands—if they are alive. Why are they speaking out now?

"Time is running out," said attractive blonde, gray-eyed Mrs. James Mulligan, the mother of six sons.

"My husband (a navy commander of Lawrence, Mass.) has been a prisoner four and a half years now... all those years of imprisonment. What harm can be done now?" she asked.

"We've been very quiet up until now," said Mrs. Jeremiah A. Denton, a Southerner of cameo-like beauty. "We've gone through diplomatic channels. We've written letters. North Vietnam has refused to abide by the rules for prisoners set up by the Geneva convention. We hope now, by speaking out, when North Vietnam sees public opinion against them..." her voice trailed off.

Because this is the Christmas season, a time of reckoning when one feels more poignantly the loss of loved ones—and the hope of miracles—some hope against hope their husbands will be home by Christmas.

Only five of the 27 have ever received letters. Yet each writes her monthly letter—all that is allowed by the North Vietnamese. Even those without hope. Not knowing if there is a husband there to receive the letter. Or, if he is there, whether he will be given it.

Each faithfully gleams what she can of the essence of her life with her children, trying to confidence it into six lines—all that can be sent under Hanoi's rules. Navy Capt. Denton, of Mobile, Ala., a tall, handsome pilot, was shot down over North Vietnam July 18, 1965.

Five days later, his wife found out he was a prisoner of war. Four and a half years he has been imprisoned. Yet, Jane Denton says, "I'm one of the lucky ones."

Mrs. Denton devotes her life to their seven children, ranging in age from 7 to 22.

The woodland scene outside and the secure, tastefully furnished home, filled with antiques and oil portraits of children, contrasted sharply with the picture of her husband—frown from whom she has received seven letters—which she saw on a television reel about American prisoners.

"He looked pale, haggard and drained," she said. That was in 1966. Three years have passed since.

Missing 22 Months
June Nelson was a bride of only two days when her husband, Navy Lt. Richard Nelson left for Vietnam. He was shot down several months later and has been missing for almost 22 months.

No one saw parachutes and June believes her tall, curly-haired pilot-husband, 28, is dead.

"I can't believe they'd do this," she said, with an impatient shake of her head. Why won't they tell us if he is alive or not? I'm 25 now, and I won't be 25 much longer. When am I going to have children?"

The wives worry about what solitary confinement will do to their men, many of them believe their captive husbands have been kept in solitary confinement because some released

Congresswomen Favor Lady Justice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 10 lady members of the House say it's high time a woman is named to the Supreme Court and they think the first female justice could very well come from their own ranks.

"I think it would be gratifying against women as they say there's no more reason not to nominate a woman than not to nominate a man," said Rep. J. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill. "There is a Negro on the court," he said. "But there is no woman."

"It's not an outlandish idea. There is one vacancy on the court. At least one woman should be nominated to the Supreme Court. It is fashionable to discriminate against women," said Rep. Margaret M. Heckler, R-Mass.

All congresswomen agreed with Rep. Catherine May, R-Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., Wash., that a woman should be selected only if she was the best person for the job. "I hope the day is not far off when the American people will select a woman to the Supreme Court," she said.

Women's Viewpoint

"It would be good to have a woman's viewpoint on the bench and to give further recognition to the fact that we realize women have ability," said Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y., the only Negro congresswoman.

"Many of us women are focusing on one woman whom we know well and think is extremely well qualified," Mrs. Martha Griffiths, said Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, D-Mo. "She has judgment, knowledge, integrity and lots of good common sense as well as judicial background."

Mrs. Griffiths is a Democratic congresswoman from Michigan.

The Women's Bar Association of the District of Columbia, the National Association of Women Lawyers, and the National Business and Professional Women's Club have all recommended Mrs. Griffiths to the President.

"I think it would be wonderful to have a woman on the court and it's very nice of those groups to recommend me. But I don't think I have a chance," Mrs. Griffiths said.

"Is that because you're a Democrat?" a reporter asked.

"I would think so," she replied. "Others said she is also too liberal."

"I think it would be good for the country for a woman to be selected and good politically for President Nixon," Mrs. Griffiths said.

Great Choice

"She would be a great choice," said Mrs. Green of Mrs. Griffiths. "I'd be proud as a woman to have her on the Supreme Court bench," said Rep. Patsy Mink, D-Hawaii. "I heartily endorse her," said Mrs. Hansen.

Another congresswoman, Rep. Charlotte Reid, R-Ill., was also recommended in a House speech by Rep. James Fulton, R-Pa.

"I'm extremely honored to be mentioned but I'm not a lawyer and I think legal and judicial background would be needed. I feel there's no reason why a woman couldn't be nominated," Mrs. Reid said.

"If the President can find a qualified woman for the court, I think it would be great. I'd be all for it," said Rep. Florence Dwyer, R-N.J.
